VOL. XXVI, NO. 40

GAINESVILLE, FLORIDA, THURSDAY, MARCH 25, 1909

TEN CENTS A WEEK

KELLEY AND DAVIDSON ARRAIGNED JOINTLY

Both Indicted For Murder of W. C. Sellars at High Springs in August, 1906.

Circuit court convened at 9 o'clock, Judge Wills presiding.

The case of the State of Florida vs. W. D. Debose, colored, charged with forgery, was called for trial. The State was represented by Solicitor Rivers and the defense by Cois. E. C. F. Sanchez and Robt. E. Davis.

The following jury was sworn in the case: S. B. Cheves, J. H. Patterson, L. J. Burklim, Jos. Malphurs, D. A. Robertson and A. J. DaCosta. This was a case wherein the defendant was charged with forging the name of W. R. Thomas to a check for $9, and the name of W. G. Shehee to another for $6, payable to J. J. Williams.

The witnesses were put under the rule.

J. J. Williams was sworn for the State. Witness was shown certain papers, including check signed W. R. Thomas, which he identified, whereupon the State offered same in evidence. Objected to by defense; objection overruled. Witness testified that he shipped the goods on the order accompanied by the check signed W. R. Thomas, the goods being returned to him by the express company. The order was signed Harry W. Smith, to whom the goods were shipped, Debose calling at the express office for them with an order purporting to be signed by Smith.

W. R. Thomas was sworn and testified that he did not know any such man as H. W. Smith.

F. H. McDonald, cashier of the express company, testified that he was acquainted with the defendant. Witness identified order signed Smith upon which he delivered the package of whiskey to Debose at the time of the latter's arrest. McDonald had delivered whiskey to a negro who Debose had identified as Henry Young on another occasion.

Sheriff Ramsey testified that at the time he arrested Debose defendant stated that he got the package on an order from C. C. Wilson. Sheriff identified some writing done by Wilson whom Debose claimed to have gotten the order from. The papers were offered in evidence by the State, to which the defense objected; objection overruled. The sheriff stated that he had made a thorough search for Henry Young but had been unable to find him.

T. B. Ellis, Jr., identified some writing done in his presence by Debose. The paper was filed in evidence.

E. D. Turner, cashier of the Dutton Bank, upon which the different checks were drawn, said that he had seven or eight years' experience in the bank examining signatures. He identified the order for the whiskey and the paper written in the presence of Mr. Ellis as having been written by the same party, in fact all the papers, including the signatures on the Thomas and Shehee checks, as written by the same party.

W. G. Shehee was shown check purporting to be signed by him and said that he had not signed the check; check was offered in evidence. Objected to by defense; objection was sustained.

W. D. Debose was next sworn in his own behalf and denied all knowledge of the transaction and stated that he simply got the order from Wilson and went after the whiskey as requested, Wilson telling him that Smith was a preacher and did not care to call in person for the liquor.

This closed the evidence on both sides, and Col. Davis argued the case for the defense. At the conclusion of his argument court adjourned until 2 p. m.

Afternoon Session.

Court convened at 2 o'clock, the room being crowded in anticipation of the case of Kelley, charged with the murder of Sellars, coming to trial.

The grand jury came into court and reported that they had no further business before them, whereupon they were discharged.

Solicitor Rivers began his argument for the prosecution in the case of W. D. Debose, charged with forgery. He spoke for 25 minutes, when Judge Wills delivered his charge in the case and the jury retired to make up their verdict.

Freeman Swanson, a young negro, was arraigned on the charge of conveying tools to one John Jones, a prisoner in the county jail, to aid in the latter's escape, and plead not guilty.

The State announced ready in the case of James Kelley, charged with the murder of W. C. Sellars at High Springs on the night of August 8th, 1906, whereupon Col. Stripling, of counsel for defense, asked for the sheriff's return on the attachment issued for McElween, a witness for the defense.

The sheriff made following return of the special venire of 75 summoned in the Kelley case:

John Osteen, W. F. Gay, M. D. Jackson, W. P. Shettleworth, Jasper Harris, A. U. Hilleary, C. J. Lindsay, J. M. Guinn, Geo. L. Taylor, Jasper

Moore, W. J. Cannon, H. M. Baker, F. M. Cellon, J. W. Sherouse, C. N. Merry, C. J. Grace, Frank Parker, Chas. Tyson, J. H. Kennedy, Geo. Dampier, E. L. Cushman, J. L. Grimes, C. C. Fletcher, C. L. Kite, J. F. Bunch, J. R. Emerson, H. J. Bailey, A. L. Sanders, J. H. Hines, J. S. Goode, L. C. Gracy, P. M. Colson, R. C. Davis, Jas. Harrison, R. L. Tison, Curtis Baird, J. M. Love, W. H. Hines, N. R. Carter, O. B. Bryant, W. S. LeGrande, Jos. M. Kite, J. P. Jones, C. M. McKinney, W. H. Guthrie, W. R. Eddins, G. W. Everett, Eli Futch, R. R. Doke, W. S. Moore, S. R. Chitty, W. F. Love, J. D. Caldwell, C. D. May, W. Lancaster, J. B. Brooks, W. J. English, Geo. W. Dyal, Jesse M. Shaw, R. B. Bush, John Chamblin, S. A. Hussey, J. T. Jones, I. O. Hilliard.

Messrs. Baird, Bryant, Jones, Guthrie, Moore, Chitty, May, Lancaster, English, Dyal, Bush, Hussey, Jackson, Hilleary, Taylor, Shettleworth, Merry, Dampier, Grimes, Gracy and Colson were excused by the court, and the sheriff reported that he was unable to find Geo. M. Gramling, W. T. Jones, T. D. Kite, N. C. Pettit, N. P. Cauthen, J. W. Sutton, W. J. Tillman, O. R. Green, J. C. Bryant and C. S. Douglass.

File Concealed in a Banana.

Freeman Swanson, a negro youth still in his teens, was arraigned on the charge of conveying tools to a prisoner with which to escape, and on the advice of his counsel he entered a plea of guilty. He bought a large banana and secreted a file in the same before handing it through the bars of the county jail to a prisoner by the name of Henry Swanson, a half-brother of the prisoner. James Kelley, the white man who is confined in jail for the murder of W. C. Sellars, heard the men at work with the file and reported the matter to the sheriff, who found the lock filed about half in two. Had the prisoners been given another hour to work in all who desired could have escaped from that part of the jail during the night.

The special veniremen were discharged until 5 o'clock p. m.

Debose Found Guilty.

After being out just one hour the jury in the Debose case filed into court and, through their foreman, J. H. Patterson, returned a verdict of guilty as charged in the first count of the indictment.

Boisy Murphy, colored, charged with the murder of his wife, Janie Murphy, plead guilty to murder in the second degree, and was sentenced to imprisonment for life.

D. M. Davidson, who had been indicted by the grand jury at this term as an accessory before the fact of the murder of W. C. Sellars, was brought into court during the day, he having voluntarily surrendered upon learning of the indictment.

On motion of defendant's counsel the case of Duncan Jordan, charged with the murder of Geo. Bryant, was continued until the second Monday in May of the spring term of court.

At five o'clock James Kelley and D. M. Davidson were jointly arraigned on the charge of having murdered W. C. Sellars, a special officer of the A. C. L. Ry., at High Springs on the night of August 8th, 1906, to which charge both defendants responded in a clear voice, "Not guilty."

A telegram was received from McElween's physician, the absent witness for Kelley, stating that he could come Thursday, and Judge Wills set the case for disposition at 9 p. m. Thursday, to which hour court adjourned.

Dutton Bank Has Machine.

The Dutton Bank also has a new electrical adding machine which was installed in their place on Tuesday. The report that the other bank was the first to receive such a device was the fault of the agent that sold the machine, he informing the reporter personally that the one referred to was the first in the South. Both machines are identically the same and came in by the same express, and it shows the progressive spirit of the banks to add such valuable acquisitions.

KIDNAPPERS CAUGHT WITH MOST OF RANSOM

Woman Admits That She Planned the Abduction. Had $9,790 of Whitley's Money.

CLEVELAND, O., March 24.—In the arrest here last night of a man and woman having $9,790 in their possession, the police believe they have captured the kidnappers of Willie Whitley. In fact, the woman in the case, who is somewhat befuddled, admitted that she had been responsible for the kidnapping. When placed in custody at the central police station she said to Capt. Shattuck:

"I am the one who planned the whole thing. There will be trouble for me and hell in Sharon tomorrow." Beneath the woman's skirt was found $9,790. All of it but $40 was bound in packages with the original slips placed on the money when Whitley took it from the banks still around it.

Capt. Norman Shattuck and Detective Frank Wood made the arrest in the east end of the city. When near the police station the man broke away from Detective Wood and ran towards an alley. The official fired two shots from his revolver into the air and the man stopped. The woman made no attempt to escape.

Woman Well Educated.

The woman appears to be well educated and is refined in manners. She says she spent fifteen years of her life in a convent in Pennsylvania, but denies that she ever has been in trouble before. Both the man and the woman deny the name of each other. They admit they are not man and wife. According to the police they were intoxicated when placed in custody. Due to their condition they were not questioned closely by the police and were locked in separate cells. Both will be arraigned in police court today on the charge of abduction, according to Detective Wood.

Capt. Shattuck is said to have secured his description of the kidnappers from Willie Whitley and this description led to the arrest.

Willie told Capt. Shattuck on Monday that the woman who kept him a prisoner had smallpox scars on her face. The woman in custody has red spots on her cheeks and appears to have had smallpox. She is a tall blonde, probably 25 years old. The man is dark and smooth-faced.

On Track of the Pair.

Yesterday detectives heard that a man and woman answering the description of the kidnappers had been seen on the outskirts of the city. They came down town and bought numerous articles of clothing tendering $5 and $10 bills in payment, it was learned. Shortly after nightfall the police learned that the two had gone to the east end of the city. The police walked up behind the pair and Capt. Shattuck took the woman by the arm. Detective Wood securing the man. The couple staggered, say the police, as if they were intoxicated. They made no protest against accompanying the officers. The woman chatted with the policeman at her side at first and asked to be released.

It was then she admitted having planned the kidnapping. In the meantime the man attempted to escape, and the revolver shots of Capt. Shattuck brought him to a standstill. Whitley says he has the numbers on the currency bills handed the kidnappers and the police are comparing the notes found in the possession of the prisoners with the memoranda of Whitley.

News in Sharon.

SHARON, Pa., March 24.—Sharon people who heard news of the arrests in Cleveland, suspect a woman well-known here. The woman suspected has not been living with her husband for some time, but has been making her home here. She is said to have had intimate knowledge of the Whitley family and to have known that Mr. Whitley would unquestionably give any amount for the recovery of his son. If she is the woman on whom suspicion has centered here, her quoted assertion "that there will be hell in Sharon tomorrow," was well founded, for her arrest would cause a great sensation.

Joy in Sharon.

SHARON, Pa., March 24.—The whole borough of Sharon turned out last night and participated in the demonstration over the homecoming of Willie Whitley who with his father arrived here soon after noon yesterday. A big parade was led by the Buhl Independent Rifles, a National Guard company and the Buhl Rifles' Band, both named for Willie's uncle, and thousands of persons marched behind them through the principal streets of the town to the Whitley home where fully 5,000 persons assembled on the lawn in front of the house, cheering and giving every evidence of the public participation in the family joy over the recovery of the little wanderer.

Willie does not yet seem to comprehend what he and his parents have been through. He was out this afternoon playing with his little friends. He is the object of the childish envy of every boy in Sharon.

Governor Offers Reward.

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 24.—Gov. Stuart last night issued a proclamation offering a reward of $10,000 for the arrest and conviction of the kidnappers of Willie Whitley.

Practically No Change In Rules of the House

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Congress is still doing business under rules that are practically as vicious as they ever were. This information is for the enlightenment of those who, during the recent attack on the rules, got the impression Speaker Cannon was robbed of a large amount of power.

Nothing could be further from the truth, although Uncle Joe is willing that we imagine so. The fact is, that instead of the Fitzgerald resolution establishing changes in the rules that were unsatisfactory to Uncle Joe, the measure was introduced with Uncle Joe's O. K. Uncle Joe liked the "curb" it placed on his power so he immediately rewarded Fitzgerald with one of the most luscious plum points on the Ways and Means Committee.

Sufficient time has now passed to obtain an accurate line on the meaning of the Fitzgerald resolution.

B. F. Hampton Does First Work on Gov't. Building

The site for the Government building now presents a busy scene, and while there are only a very few laborers employed on the work of excavation the location is thronged all of the day by parties who call to see the progress made.

Work was started on Wednesday morning, when, at 7 o'clock, B. F. Hampton made the first excavation, taking a large jar of the earth that he had dug as a souvenir.

Davis & Oliver have the contract for the excavation of the large hole that will form the basement of the building, this being 100x60 feet. The length of the building runs north and south instead of east and west, as many had supposed, but the porticos will extend on either side, making the building even larger than the above dimensions.

W. W. King, president of the company who has the contract, left in the afternoon for Ocala, Jacksonville and other points to look after the material for use in the building, but will return here within the next few days.

He will purchase all of his rock and sand here of the local dealers and will also submit samples from brick made here, but as this is a cement product it is not known whether the same can be used.

COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS ITS PURCHASE TO CITY COUNCIL.

List of Candidates to Be Voted for At the Coming Election—Other Business Transacted.

The City Council held an interesting adjourned session on Wednesday evening, when the following were present: President Shands, Aldermen Broome, Burnett, Graves, Vidal and Clerk Dell.

A communication from the U. S. Government in reference to the laying of sidewalks around the Government building was referred to the street committee.

Alderman Broome moved that the following names be placed on the official ballot to be voted for at the coming municipal election to be held on April 13:

For Aldermen—E. E. Cannon, C. A. Colclough, J. A. Goodwin, T. W. Shands, R. B. Peeler, W. T. Pound, M. B. Saunders.

For Mayor—Horatio Davis and S. J. Burnett.

For Marshal—B. T. Arnow and C. C. Warren.

For Tax Collector—T. B. Ellis.

For Clerk and Treasurer—J. M. Dell.

For Assessor—B. R. Colson and W. M. Bradford.

Member Board Public Works—H. E. Taylor.

Ordinance No. 176, being an ordinance to prohibit the discharge of firearms within the city limits and providing a penalty therefor, was taken up and read by sections and adopted upon its first reading. The rules were waived and it was passed by the council on second and third readings.

The assessment of J. L. Bulah was reduced to $250 and Mrs. A. F. Harrod to $300.

Alderman Graves moved that Lot 14 of the Oak Hall plat be purchased for the sum of $400, which was carried.

Alderman Broome moved that a note be made to the Dutton Bank for $424.14, signed by the President and attested by Clerk, to pay the balance due the Good Roads Machinery Company on the rock crusher.

The committee selected to report on a suitable lot for the location of

CAUSE FOR ALARM

Loss of Appetite or Distress After Eating a Symptom That Should Not Be Disregarded.

Appetite is just a natural desire for food. Loss of appetite or stomach distress after eating indicate indigestion or dyspepsia. Over-eating is a habit very dangerous to a person's good general health, and insatiable appetite is a sure symptom of diabetes.

It is not what you eat but what you digest and assimilate that does you good. Some of the strongest, heaviest persons are moderate eaters.

There is nothing that will create sickness or cause more trouble than a disordered stomach, and many people daily contract serious maladies simply through disregard or abuse of the stomach.

We urge everyone in Gainesville who is suffering from any stomach derangement, indigestion or dyspepsia, whether acute or chronic, to try Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, with the distinct understanding that we will refund their money without question or formality, if after reasonable use of this medicine, they are not perfectly satisfied with the result. We recommend them to our customers every day, and have yet to hear of anyone who has not been benefited by them. We honestly believe them to be without equal. They are made from the prescription of a physician who devoted all his time to the study and treatment of stomach troubles. They give very prompt relief, neutralize the gastric juices, strengthen the digestive organs, create good digestion and assimilation, naturally regulate the bowels, promote nutrition, and create a permanent cure of all unhealthy symptoms.

We urge you to try a 25c box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, which gives 15 days' treatment. At the end of that time, your money will be returned to you if you are not satisfied. Of course, in chronic cases length of treatment varies. For such cases, we have two larger sizes, which sell for 45c and 89c. J. W. McCollum & Co., corner East Main and Union streets.

A new fire station made their report in favor of the lot owned by Mrs. Ida Burnett. The report was received and ordered filed.

Alderman Broome moved that the following resolution be passed by the council in reference to the pay of the firemen during their service at a fire when the hose is used: "Resolved, That the following sums be paid to members of the Fire Department for the City of Gainesville for their services whenever they are called to a fire—and it becomes necessary for them to wet the hose: For chief, $10; each foreman, per hour, $2.50; each fireman, per hour, $1."

Upon motion the board adjourned to meet on April 2nd, at 7:30 p. m., at which time complaints of any whose names have been stricken from the city registration list may be heard.

Of Interest to Teachers.

The Special Review Term for teachers at the Stetson Normal School will open on Wednesday, March 31st. Special reduced rates can be secured over all the Florida lines by application to local ticket agents. The Southern Passenger Association and the Florida East Coast Railroad Company have issued such instructions to their agents.

The Stetson Normal School will offer review courses in all of the subjects in which teachers are examined for any grade of teachers' certificate in the State of Florida. In order to encourage the public school teachers in their efforts to build up an efficient common school system, Stetson Normal School offers free tuition, free room rent and a reduced rate of boarding to all Florida teachers and prospective teachers who wish to take the review course offered during the spring term, beginning March 31st and closing June 1.

Railroad tickets can be bought on March 29th, 30th and 31st and will be good for return as late as June 2. For further particulars address Director A. L. L. Suhrie, DeLand, Fla.

Itching piles provoke profanity, but profanity won't cure them. Doan's Ointment cures itching, bleeding, or protruding piles after years of suffering. At any drug store.

FIRST BALL BATTLE FRIDAY AFTERNOON

BOTH LOCAL TEAMS AND INTEREST IS LOOKING UP.

Good Material Is Selected for Both Clubs and Friends Will Do Much Rooting.

The first interesting local game of baseball for the season will be played at the ball lot tomorrow afternoon between the old Oak Hall aggregation and the University bunch of artists.

The city team will be composed of as many of the old players as it is possible to get together, with Craigen and Thomas the battery; Hutchinson, Graham, Mitchell, Carter, Bowen and others to follow up the good work, and the bunch claim it now looks as if it is easy work.

Earle Taylor will be the slab artist for the University, with Langston behind the bat. Hunter, G. Taylor, Matthews, Goldham and a few others will comprise the college team.

They have already been together this season putting in some hard work practicing and expect to give the boys a tight game. The citizens generally are expected to turn out and lend encouragement to the men that are trying to furnish amusement for those that like the national game.

A small admission will be charged—enough to meet the expenses—and the local interest that is now brewing indicates that it will be a battle well worthy of your attendance.

MISTAKE AS TO FERRY.

Mules Were Drowned While Crossing Ferry Miles Above Old Town.

On the 18th inst., a statement was published in The Sun that a valuable pair of mules had been drowned while crossing the Suwannee river on W. N. Fowler's ferry at Old Town. The location of the ferry was an error either by the reporter or his informant, the accident having occurred at a ferry many miles above Old Town, it is alleged.

The Sun had no desire or intention to do the owner of the ferry at Old Town an injustice, and cheerfully makes the correction due him.

Card of Thanks.

Mrs. Chas. W. Chase and family take this method of acknowledging their deep appreciation of the many acts of kindness shown them by the good people of Gainesville on the death of Mr. C. W. Chase and his funeral. Such manifestations of love and esteem for our dear one will never be forgotten.

NERVOUS PROSTRATION

Indigestion Causes It—Mi-o-na Will Cure It.

If you have indigestion, you don't get all the nutriment out of your food that you should.

Your worn out stomach passes the food on without extracting enough nutritious substance to supply the blood and nerves.

And if the nerves are not supplied with nourishment, they begin to rebel. They kick up a great disturbance. They make you irritable and cranky, you worry about trifles, and you cannot sleep soundly at night, you have bad dreams, and you get up tired in the morning.

Try Mi-o-na tablets, the money back cure. Mi-o-na will cure your nervousness by driving out the cause. Mi-o-na will give you relief the first hour. It will cure acute cases in a few days, and chronic cases in a few weeks.

Belching of gas, heartburn, sour taste of food, waterbrash, foul breath and other dyspeptic symptoms vanish before the mighty power of Mi-o-na.

Try Mi-o-na. J. W. McCollum & Co. sell it and will refund your money if it don't cure, and only 50 cents a large box.

HE READ HIS MAN.

Lincoln's Rebuke to a Visitor Who Would Not Meet His Gaze.

As I came up to the railing in front of the president he was reading a paper that had just been presented to him by a man who sat in the chair opposite him and who seemed by his restlessness and unsteady eyes to be of a nervous disposition or under great excitement.

Mr. Lincoln, still holding the paper up and without movement of any kind, paused and, raising his eyes, looked for a long time at this man's face and seemed to be looking down into his very soul. Then, resuming his reading for a few moments, he again paused and cast the same piercing look upon his visitor.

Suddenly, without warning, he dropped the paper, and, stretching out his long arm, he pointed his finger directly in the face of his vis-a-vis and said, "What's the matter with you?"

The man stammered and finally replied, "Nothing."

"Yes, there is," said Lincoln. "You can't look me in the face! You have not looked me in the face since you sat there! Even now you are looking out that window and cannot look me in the eye!"

Then, flinging the paper in the man's lap, he cried: "Take it back! There is something wrong about this! I will have nothing to do with it!" And the discomfited individual retired.—T. B. Bancroft in McClure's Magazine.

ORIENTAL PARAGONS.

Japan's Four and Twenty Models of Filial Piety.

Filial piety, as is well known, is the special virtue of China and Japan. From it springs loyalty to the emperor, who is regarded as "the father and mother of his people." There are no greater favorites with the Japanese than the "four and twenty paragons of filial piety," whose acts of virtue are the subjects of Chinese legend.

One of the paragons had a cruel stepmother, who was very fond of fish. Never repining at her cruel treatment of him, he lay down on the frozen surface of a lake. The warmth of his body melted a hole in the ice, at which two carp came up to breathe. These he caught and took home to his stepmother.

Another paragon, who was of the female sex, clung to the jaws of a tiger that was about to devour her father until the latter escaped.

The drollest of all these stories is that of Romash. This paragon, though seventy years old, used to dress in baby's clothes and crawl about on the floor, his object being to delude his parents, who were really over ninety years of age, into the idea that they could not be so very old, after all, as they had such an exceedingly infantile son.—Sunday Magazine.

THE BEST REMEDY

For Women—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Noah, Ky. — "I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from headaches, nervous prostration, and hemorrhages."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me well and strong, so that I can do all my housework, and attend to the store and post-office, and I feel much younger than I really am."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most successful remedy for all kinds of female troubles, and I feel that I can never praise it enough."—Mrs. LIZZIE HOLLAND, Noah, Ky.

The Change of Life is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease and pain.

Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs.

For 30 years it has been curing women from the worst forms of female ills— inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, and nervous prostration.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

A DEADLY CONTEST.

Tragic Climax of a Bicycle Race in Australia.

One of the most singular events in the annals of athletics occurred a few years ago at Sydney, Australia. The occasion was a great electric light bicycle race, and the attendance was not less than 10,000 people. There were fifty entries, two of whom, James Somerville and Percy Cliff, were not only professional rivals, but deadly enemies. Both were considered expert riders.

From the start of the race Somerville led, with Cliff a close second. Somerville kept the lead throughout and came into the last lap with Cliff only a few feet behind him. When about twenty-five yards from the finish Somerville put on a terrific burst of speed and drew away from his rival. Suddenly at this point his grip on the handle bar relaxed, and he fell forward. The machine, however, under the tremendous impulse it had received, raced ahead like an arrow, the rider hanging limply over the handle bar.

Four yards from the tape the machine slowed down a little. At this point the front wheel of Cliff's machine struck the hind wheel of Somerville's, sending both wheel and rider across the tape. Somerville won the race, but he was dead several seconds before he crossed the tape.—Chicago Record-Herald.

ANCIENT DOCTORS.

Some of the Things They Knew Twelve Hundred Years Ago.

The Russian Academy of Medicine after examining a Tibetan "Handbook of Medicine," first published 1,200 years ago, acknowledges that it contains many truths discovered or rediscovered by modern physicians. Here are some extracts from the ancient volume:

"Number of bones in the human body, 300; number of nerves, 99; number of pores, 11,000,000."

"The heart is the king of the organs and the staff of life. The lungs embrace it as a mother does her child. Sicknesses are due to man's malice, ignorance and inability to curb the passions, for these things interfere with the proper nourishment of the human organs. All unkind thoughts react upon the heart and liver."

The methods for ascertaining the state of a person's health were very similar to those methods employed today—looking at the tongue, feeling the pulse, etc. Vegetable medicines are advocated; also baths, compresses, massage, bloodletting, etc. Fines were imposed upon physicians who did not keep their instruments clean.

MAILED LETTERS.

Many persons are under the impression that a letter once mailed is no longer the property of the sender, but belongs to the person to whom it is addressed. This is an error. Under the postal regulations of the United States and the rulings of the highest courts in the land, a letter does not belong to the addressee until it is delivered to him.

The writer has a right to reclaim and regain possession of it provided he can prove to the satisfaction of the postmaster at the office from which it was sent that he was the writer of it.

Even after the letter has arrived at the office which is its destination and before it has been delivered to the addressee it may be recalled by the writer by telegraph through the mailing office.

The regulations of the postoffice department require, of course, that utmost care shall be taken by the postmaster at the office of mailing to ascertain that the person who desires to withdraw the letter is really the one who is entitled to do so, and the postmaster is responsible for his error if he delivers the letter to an impostor or to an unauthorized person.

The vital principle in our political system lies at the bottom of this matter. In this country the state is the servant or agent of the citizen, not his master. It remains merely his agent throughout the transmission of a letter. The state may prescribe regulations under which its servants may carry a message for the citizen, but it cannot shirk its responsibility to him.—Washington Star.

S.S.S. CURES CHRONIC ULCERS

Any chronic ulcer shows an unhealthy and impure condition of the blood. It is a diseased condition of the flesh at that particular spot, caused and kept inflamed and irritated by a continual discharge into it, of unhealthy matter from the circulation. No treatment can have any curative effect except a medicine which will renovate the blood and entirely remove the cause. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., are sometimes helpful in reducing inflammation, cleansing the ulcer, or perhaps lessening the discharge, but such applications do not reach the blood where the disease germs are located and can never effect a cure. S. S. S. goes down into the circulation, drives out all impurities and morbid matter, and by nourishing the flesh with rich pure blood causes the place to heal naturally and permanently. S. S. S. does not make a surface cure, but by beginning at the bottom, and rebuilding broken-down tissue, and supplying healthful, healing qualities to the blood, causes the place to fill in with new, firm flesh, while it steadily but surely effects a permanent cure. The ulcer can not exist when the blood is pure, and S. S. S. will thoroughly purify the blood. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.

TELEPHONE TALKS

The Long Distance System

One of the most valuable features of our service, to our subscribers and to the public generally, is our connection with the extensive long distance lines of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the other associated Bell Telephone companies.

We own thousands of miles of long distance lines in the seven States in which we operate and in addition can connect any telephone in our system with lines extending to any other city in which a Bell Telephone system is operated.

These long distance lines are of the most modern and improved construction and are maintained at a high state of efficiency. The Bell systems, operating in various sections of the country, are uniform in their equipment and in their methods of operating.

Only by reason of this close traffic arrangement between the Bell Telephone companies is it possible to go to a Bell Telephone almost anywhere, ask for "Long Distance" and be put in communication with almost any point in the country.

This vast network of wires, radiating throughout the nation, is used daily in commerce and for social purposes by the banker, the farmer and citizens in all walks of life and our plant here is an important link in this great chain.

The young man who expects to succeed in anything in these days of steam motion and electric thought must have a large capacity for push in his head, arms and legs.

Some of those editors who complain of the Government printing envelopes are ardent advocates of the Government ownership of railroads, etc., remarks The Starke Telegraph.

Now is the time when the English language will receive numerous additions in the baseball pages of the daily papers. Whether or not the additions will enrich the language is another question.

A contemporary remarks that a first-class country editor would make a good hotel cook. He has learned how to boil down his brains, has his contemporaries, roast politicians and chowder his critics.

Alachua county has an area of about 1,300,000 acres. Within its boundaries are all classes of lands; no better for general farming can be found in the State; and large bodies are especially adapted to fruit, vine and truck farming.

The decision of the Standard Oil case which has been before the people for the past two years seems to make it clear that all the efforts of the Government to effectively deal with violation of law by combinations of capital will have to be done over again. As the present laws, from which so much was expected, appear to be faulty in the extreme, probably the first thing needed is the enactment of laws that will be both constitutional and effective.

That the new parliament in Turkey will make many mistakes and perhaps endanger its own existence is to be expected. If we in this country, with all our centuries of experience in representative government, still make many mistakes and have yet much wisdom to acquire, it is not strange that in a country like Turkey, awakening into the life of popular rule after centuries of despotism, parliamentary government must undergo several crises before it is firmly established.

The income tax law just adopted by France follows the English law in exempting working men's incomes and in adopting a sliding scale reaching a maximum of four per cent on the largest incomes. The law promises to be popular inasmuch as in addition to raising more money for expenses it will also lead to the repeal of a number of vexatious taxes. Constitutional provision against class discrimination would probably operate against a graded income tax in this country.

The murder of the American detective in Italy by the Black Hand will probably cause our Government to take more drastic action in dealing with that organization in this country. That it exists here and that it is responsible for many outrages and murders admits of no doubt. Such societies are most repugnant to our American ideas of justice and of dealing with wrong, and the sooner this is made clear to people of assassination propensities the better, both for them and the country.

FAKE REVISION OF TARIFF.

The Payne tariff bill promises to go down in history as not only the most complicated measure of the kind ever submitted to Congress, but as containing "jokers" which—if permitted to remain in the bill—will have the effect of revising the tariff up instead of down. This is the view of many Republicans as well as Democrats. Senator Cummins of Iowa is vigorous in his denunciation of certain features of the bill.

The Payne bill has become the great national conundrum. Not even Payne himself knows the answer, at least he hasn't told the newspaper men how to solve the problem of finding out just what his bill really means.

No one knows under what rate of duty, the maximum or the minimum, any article will be admitted to the country from any other nation. No one can find out under what rate the committee itself intends that goods shall be admitted.

Senator Cummins, who is perhaps as close a tariff student as there is in the Senate, says the maximum and minimum clause would defeat the object of a division downward, because where other nations discriminate against this country the United States would put on the maximum tariff against them.

The Philadelphia North American has had experts examining the bill. This newspaper is one of the foremost Republican organs of the country. "The more the measure is studied," says The North American, "the stronger grows the belief that the committee framed it merely as a pretense of tariff revision, and then deliberately imposed such conditions upon other nations that the maximum rates shall be operative."

Some of the paradoxical features of the bill are now declared to be the result of error. The work presents so many doubtful features, however, that the work of revising the Payne bill will be thorough, or as thorough as "Uncle Joe" will permit from the Democratic side.

It is declared positively that the committee had no intention of imposing the maximum rates upon products from a country that makes tariff concessions to its own colonies. Members of the committee said the bill did not seek to affect commercial relations between a country and its dependencies.

It was not until the language was brought to their attention that they would admit that such a construction could be placed upon it. Then they agreed that possibly a change would be necessary to make the bill "clear."

The bill is ingeniously worded in many places. It is being pointed out that it is most remarkable that anyone not a lifelong student of tariff technique would have adopted such marvelously complicated phraseology to be enacted into law. The bill is so arranged that before the country can derive the benefit of the revision other nations will have to revise their tariff laws and all their trade agreements.

To explain the situation briefly, revision of the American tariff is made dependent upon the enactment of legislation by other nations.

There is not to be found in the Ways and Means Committee, or anywhere else in Washington, definite information as to the effect of the proposed law. The committee has no list of the nations from which importations can be made at minimum rates, nor can they tell against what nations the maximum rates will be enforced.

England, Austria and Italy, it is being guessed, may come within the minimum rates, while against France and Germany the maximum rates will probably be applied. Canada is negotiating a preferential tariff treaty with France, and if it goes through all Canadian products, including those which have been placed on the free list in the early part of the bill, will have the maximum rates imposed upon them.

It is provided in the bill that upon imports of iron and steel from a nation against which the maximum rates of duties are to be imposed there shall be collected the duties in force prior to the passage of this bill. It is stated specifically that the maximum rates are to be imposed against Germany. Therefore, so far as iron and steel from Germany are concerned, there is to be absolutely no change from the present law, yet the committee pretends to have revised the iron and steel schedule downward, and to have an average reduction of duties of 35 per cent.

To discover this it is necessary to work back and forth in the bill; to read one section with reference to another, and that section with reference to still another, and so on. The efforts to conceal the real purpose and meaning of the bill are plain.

The tariff commission advocates are jubilant, because they say the Payne bill proves the committee is incompetent to deal with tariff revision, and insist that the result will greatly strengthen sentiment in favor of the creation of a permanent tariff commission.

Monarchs greet each other with a kiss on the cheek and vow eternal friendship, and diplomats talk eloquently of peace, and all that is well, but governments go merrily on building big war ships and increasing their armies. England has just decided to build four more Dreadnaughts and a lot of smaller vessels, and its naval estimates total $175,000,000. Germany, France, the United States and other countries will, of course, follow suit. From all of which it is clear that the lion is not yet ready to lie down with the lamb.

GAINESVILLE, —THE— University City.

Gainesville is conceded to be the most enterprising as well as the most beautiful city in the interior of Florida. It is located in the very center of the State, half way between the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, surrounded by lands of such fertility as to be capable of producing a great variety of crops; in the heart of the truck-growing, phosphate and naval stores belt. She has the best educational advantages in the State, good churches, with edifices which are superior to any town of its size in Florida, with large and consistent congregations; has a climate which cannot be excelled for health and pleasure. All these natural advantages, combined with a progressive and enterprising cosmopolitan citizenship, are sure to make a big city.

There are many natural attractions in close proximity to the city, some of which are Alachua Sink, Paine's Prairie, the Devil's Mill Hopper, Warren's Cave, and Lake Newnan, all of which are reached by private conveyance.

Spring Park Stock Farm, the largest and finest live stock farm in the State, is only eight miles west of the city and is reached by a good hard road, affording a most pleasant drive.

The farmers of Alachua county, of which Gainesville is the county seat, "live at home and board at the same place." The temperature is very uniform, scarcely ever reaching the nineties in summer or the twenties in winter. The population of Gainesville is about eight thousand, representing nearly every nationality on the face of the earth, and strangers always meet with a hearty welcome.

The University of Florida for young men and the National Agricultural Experiment Station are located within the corporate limits of the city. In fact, Gainesville has so many things that we must be pardoned if we omit a few of them in the following enumeration of what

PAINTERS' BLUNDERS

Reckless Pranks Played With Heavenly Bodies.

IMPOSSIBILITIES IN NATURE.

A Rainbow Depicted Wrong Side Out and Moons in Positions and Forms That Could Not Occur—Amusing Anachronisms by Old Time Artists.

That artists, like authors, should commit many errors of fact is hardly a cause for wonder. Rather, it is astonishing that they are not found ofttimes at fault in view of the great variety of knowledge required in their work. Despite this, however, there is no manner of excuse for certain absurdities.

For example, there is the case of an English painter who depicted an elaborate rainbow. Unfortunately he painted it wrong side out. But we forget amazement at such stupidity in admiration for the artist's magnificent sketching when we learn that he charged £20 additional for repainting the rainbow colored in accordance with nature's arrangement.

Painters are very prone to distress the astronomers by their reckless pranks with the heavenly bodies, particularly with the moon. One artist presented a scene in which was a crescent moon low in the eastern sky directly opposite a setting sun. Moreover, this genius disdained the criticisms of the learned. He insisted that this arrangement was necessary for the composition, inasmuch as the rest of the picture would be destroyed by a full moon—the only one possible in such a situation.

Other artists have trifled with the moon by turning its convexity away from the sun, which is, of course, impossible in nature. In one picture the moon was placed near the constellation of the Great Bear, though as a matter of fact the satellite never ventures into this part of the heavens. There are, too, oft recurring errors made in the bulk of the orb. An American astronomer amused himself by measuring the moons in a number of paintings. He established the fact that by reckoning from the satellite's size the average height of the hills in these landscapes was forty-three miles. One of the mountains, indeed, had the stupendous altitude of a hundred miles.

Artists of old time were often outrageously wrong, sometimes necessarily by reason of the limitations imposed by the ignorance of the period. A Dutch artist painted the garden of Eden with well clipped borders and few trees trimmed into fantastic shapes. He wrought in all innocence, for of such sort were the only gardens of his experience. But the excuse does not apply to a Dutch painting of 1704. This showed Abraham about to slaughter Isaac by means of a blunderbuss—the product of an age 3,000 years after the time of the patriarchs! Yet this mistake occurs again and again. There have been elaborate paintings of the children of Israel crossing the Red sea with muskets on their shoulders. A beautiful ivory tankard, an Augsburg carving of the early seventeenth century, was sold for a high price in London not long ago. The design, which is exquisite in workmanship, shows the good Samaritan, with his attendants, in the Jericho road. One of the servants carries a gun!

Many a child as well as some older persons has puzzled over that "beam" in the eye of which the New Testament speaks. It is not always understood that this means a beam of light. But it was left to Solomon Bernard, in his woodcuts illustrating the Bible, published at Lyons in 1553, to picture this beam as one of wood, rectangular in section and several feet in length!

The matter of costumes offers vast opportunity for flaws, which the painters have not failed to seize. In the national gallery at Edinburgh Pharaoh's daughter and her accompanying women are exhibited garbed in the big waisted bodices and hooped skirts of Europe in the sixteenth century. The national collection in London has a picture of Joseph and his kindred in Egypt, where the buildings shown are not at all Egyptian in their style of architecture, but distinctly Italian. In the same gallery Paolo Veronese's "The Family of Darius at the Feet of Alexander After the Battle of Issus" displays the women of the group in the pointed waists and inflated skirts that made the familiar dress of Venetian women in the painter's time.

Errors that have to do with armor may be more readily pardoned, though the artists fall lamentably in knowledge as to the earlier forms of metal protection. Thus in some paintings showing the time of Christ the warriors are seen clad in beautifully damascened mail, yet this form of armor did not come into actual use until half a thousand years later.

Similarly, in other pictures of Christ's time, monks are portrayed in their robes, with tonsures. In fact, how-of the Well-Informed of the World has always been for a simple, pleasant and efficient liquid laxative remedy of known value; a laxative which physicians could sanction for family use because its component parts are known to them to be wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, acceptable to the system and gentle, yet prompt, in action.

In supplying that demand with its excellent combination of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, the California Fig Syrup Co. proceeds along ethical lines and relies on the merits of the laxative for its remarkable success.

That is one of many reasons why Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is given the preference by the Well-Informed. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Price fifty cents per bottle.

ever, they did not exist in the church prior to the fourth century A. D.

A curious illustration of the limitations set on genius by circumstance is exhibited in one of the world's most famous paintings, "The Last Supper," Leonardo da Vinci simply did not know that the table, the cloth, the plates, the knives and forks and salt cellars were impossibilities in the scene he designed to portray. The eastern people of that age who were his subjects used no table, no chairs, no forks, but squatted about a common dish and ate from it with their fingers. —Pittsburg Post.

LABRADOR MOSQUITOES.

Terrible Pest to Travelers and Natives in the Northland.

No account of travel in Labrador can be complete without some mention of the terrible pest of mosquitoes. These were always present in immense swarms from the beginning of our trip to the end, and sometimes they made life almost unbearable.

Nothing could be heard but their buzzing. Whenever we attempted to eat they were down our throats and in our eyes and faces, and in spite of our head nets and fly dopes we were always badly bitten. The natives seemed to mind them almost as much as we did, their remedy being rancid seal oil. I am satisfied that were one so unfortunate as to be caught out at night without protection he would be either crazy or dead by morning.

Our tents were provided with a fine mesh bobbinet inner tent, but some would always find their way inside or come up from the ground. At times our light so attracted them we went outside to see if it were not raining, for the constant tapping of the mosquitoes against the canvas sounded so exactly like rain that it was impossible to tell the difference.

On many nights I had to give up the observation of stars for latitude and longitude because a candle could not be kept lit long enough to adjust the artificial horizon. We unfortunately had no chimney, and the mosquitoes swarmed so thickly that without this protection the flame was quickly smothered. There were but few nights cool enough to afford us any relief. We found that it required a temperature within a few degrees of actual freezing to subdue them.—Forest and Stream.

FOR CITY MARSHAL.

To the Voters of the City of Gainesville:

I am a candidate for City Marshal, for re-election on April 13. I have served the people faithfully and efficiently, night and day, and my record is open for inspection.

If my service during the past year has been satisfactory I ask the support and vote of each and every citizen who is qualified. I can only promise the same service as I have endeavored to give in the past.

Yours for order,

BEN T. ARNOW.

I take this method of informing the public that I am a candidate for City Marshal at the election to be held on April 13, 1909. I respectfully solicit the support of all voters, irrespective

The Tenderfoot Farmer

It was one of these experimental farmers, who put green spectacles on his cow and fed her shavings. His theory was that it didn't matter what the cow ate so long as she was fed. The questions of digestion and nourishment had not entered into his calculations.

It's only a "tenderfoot" farmer that would try such an experiment with a cow. But many a farmer feeds himself regardless of digestion and nutrition. He might almost as well eat shavings for all the good he gets out of his food. The result is that the stomach grows "weak" the action of the organs of digestion and nutrition are impaired and the man suffers the miseries of dyspepsia and the agonies of nervousness.

To strengthen the stomach, restore the activity of the organs of digestion and nutrition and brace up the nerves, use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is an unfailing remedy, and has the confidence of physicians as well as the praise of thousands healed by its use.

In the strictest sense "Golden Medical Discovery" is a temperance medicine. It contains neither intoxicants nor narcotics, and is as free from alcohol as from opium, cocaine and other dangerous drugs. All ingredients printed on its outside wrapper.

Don't let a dealer delude you for his own profit. There is no medicine for stomach, liver and blood "just as good" as "Golden Medical Discovery."

FOR TAX ASSESSOR.

To the Voters of the City of Gainesville:

I respectfully announce myself a candidate for City Tax Assessor for the year 1909. Having been Tax Assessor for four years, I am fully prepared to fill the office, as my record will show, the city assessment having been increased in that time from a little over $600,000 to over $1,000,000. I was prevented from running for this office last year on account of sickness, and now respectfully solicit your votes.

W. M. BRADFORD.

To the Voters of Gainesville:

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for re-election to the office of City Tax Assessor for the year 1909, in the election to be held on April the 13th, and most earnestly request you all to give me your vote and support for the position.

Thanking you for your past endorsement, I remain, Yours very truly,

J. J. Donaldson, who owns and operates one of the best farms in the Hatchet Creek section, near Waldo, was among the visitors to Gainesville yesterday, and called to renew his subscription to The Sun. Mr. Donaldson has been indisposed for some time, and his illness at one time developed symptoms of a severe attack of appendicitis, but he has recovered to the extent that an operation is not now necessary.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Missouri Girl."

A fair-sized audience attended the performance of "The Missouri Girl" at the Baird Theatre last night.

The play was funny throughout. "Zeke" and "Daisy," in their portrayal of the country youth and his girl sweetheart, were the principals and filled the parts very creditably. A "murder" and accidental killing during its operation adds variety to the plot.

Miss Blanche Edwards, a lady with a very pronounced baritone voice, was good, as well as other members of the company in several specialty numbers.

In all, "The Missouri Girl" is a show to please lovers of good, clean comedy.

Practice Shoot for Club.

The members of the Gun Club will meet at their grounds this afternoon at 3 o'clock for a practice shoot. There are a number of fine shots in the crowd and with a little more practice they will be able to compete with other clubs of the State. During the summer they will doubtless have several interesting contests with clubs from other cities.

CIRCUIT COURT NOW IN SPECIAL SESSION

Duncan Jordan Pleads Not Guilty to Indictment for Murder of George Bryant.

From Tuesday's Daily Sun:

The circuit court convened in special session Monday morning at 9 o'clock, Judge Willis, State Attorney Rivers and Sheriff Ramsey in their respective places.

This was Sheriff Ramsey's first term, and he entered upon his official duties as if he had been in harness a number of years.

The names of the jurors were called and the following responded: R. J. Haddock, W. H. Ellis, J. B. Clemmons, M. Crews, J. B. Sheppard, J. L. Slocum, E. Lee Hughes, H. J. McCollum, John Acree, S. B. Gaskins, J. A. Durrance, L. B. Rawls, C. C. Voyle, John M. Flewellen, C. D. Wood, E. A. Flowers, J. C. Blitch, Joseph Malphurs, Geo. E. Pickett, Wallace Prescott, R. H. Jones, C. B. Fontane, L. J. Burkham, A. S. Reeburg, R. F. Pridgeon, M. L. McCombs, C. W. Colson, R. W. Higdon, James Collins, F. D. Peterson, Sandy Graham, J. H. Osteen, M. Baldwin. The sheriff reported that R. C. Evans, Hardy Chesner and B. T. Burnett were not to be found in the county.

The jurors were then sworn and the usual questions propounded by the judge, when the following were excused for various causes: J. B. Clemmons, E. Lee Hughes, H. J. McCollum, S. B. Gaskins, C. C. Voyle, C. D. Wood, E. A. Flowers, C. B. Fontane, R. W. Higdon, F. D. Peterson, Sandy Graham.

The following were drawn as the grand jury: John McElroy Flewellen, George E. Pickett, J. L. Slocum, J. A. Durrance, R. J. Haddock, R. F. Pridgeon, J. C. Blitch, James Collins, W. H. Ellis, J. S. Reeburg, Wallace Prescott, L. B. Rawls, John Acree, J. E. Sheppard, J. H. Osteen, M. L. McCombs, M. Baldwin, R. H. Jones.

After being duly sworn they retired and selected John McElroy Flewellen foreman, whereupon Judge Willis delivered his charge to them and they retired to the room to begin their labors.

A special venire of ten persons to serve as petit jurors was ordered summoned from the body of the county at large.

Grand Jury Does Quick Work.

The grand jury came into court and reported the following true bills: John Malone, George Jones, Henry Swanson, breaking and entering H. McL. Grady's store at High Springs; Duncan Jordan, for the murder of George Bryant at High Springs; Charley Trapp, murder of James Stradford at Jonesville; John Collier, assault with intent to murder P. S. Gilmer. All the defendants are now in jail.

Court then adjourned until 2 o'clock p. m.

Afternoon Session.

Court reconvened promptly at 2 o'clock, when Sheriff Ramsey made return of the ten special veniremen as follows: S. B. Cheeves, W. D. Fagan, A. Wenske, J. B. Dell, W. O. Tison, D. A. Robertson, Geo. R. Ellis, T. B. Stringfellow, W. L. Hull. Messrs. Ellis and Stringfellow were excused, and J. M. Patterson and J. W. Tench were summoned, the other two members of the petit jury being L. J. Burkham and Joseph Malphurs.

John Malone, George Jones and Henry Swanson, all colored, were arraigned on the charge of breaking and entering the store of H. McL. Grady at High Springs, and stealing goods therefrom to the value of over $20, and plead guilty to the charge as indicted.

John Collier, colored, plead not guilty to the charge of assault with intent to murder.

Charley Trapp, colored, plead not guilty to the indictment of murder.

Duncan Jordan also plead not guilty to the charge of murder.

Tom Douglass, colored, charged with the murder of Tom Gaskins at Orange Heights, plead not guilty, and also entered the same plea to the charge of assault with the intent to murder Dafney Gaskins.

Judge Syd L. Carter was sworn in as assistant State attorney.

The court ordered a special venire of 75 names drawn from the box, returnable at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, from which to select a jury to try Kelley, the white man charged with the murder of Special Officer Sellers at High Springs about three years ago. Col. J. N. Stripling, Judge Syd L. Carter and B. A. Thrasher are representing the defendant, while State Attorney Rivers will represent the State.

It is probable that the Bexley-Osteen case will go to trial on Wednesday of next week.

Starling Means, colored, plead not guilty to the murder of Frank Galoway.

Court adjourned until 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

morning at 9 o'clock, Judge J. T. Willis presiding.

The case of the State of Florida vs. Richard Nelson, Dan Ramsey and Eddie Lee, colored, for breaking and entering the store of W. R. Brice at Island Grove and stealing therefrom goods to the value of over $20, was called and defendants plead not guilty. The following jury was sworn in the case: L. J. Burkham, Jos Malphurs, S. B. Cheves, W. D. Fagan, A. Wenske and J. B. Dell.

Judge Syd L. Carter represented the State in the absence of Solicitor Rivers, who was busy before the grand jury. The defendants had no counsel. After hearing the evidence the case was submitted without argument. The jury returned a verdict of guilty as charged in the indictment, whereupon the judge sentenced each of them to a term of three years in the State penitentiary. Mr. Burkham was foreman of the jury.

Tom Douglass, colored, withdrew his plea of not guilty of murder and plead guilty to murder in the second degree. He was sentenced to life imprisonment at hard labor in the State penitentiary. Tom took his sentence very hard and shed real "crocodile tears" as he took his seat on the mourner's bench.

The murder case of Bexley and Osteen was set for Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, when a special venire of 150 is returnable.

Court then adjourned until 2 o'clock p. m.

Afternoon Session.

Court met at 2 o'clock. The case of the State vs. John Collier, charged with assault upon P. C. Griner, policeman at High Springs, with intent to murder, was called and defendant plead not guilty.

Col. W. E. Baker was appointed to defend the prisoner and Judge Carter represented the State. The following jury was sworn in the case: J. W. Tench, foreman; A. J. Da Costa, J. H. Patterson, J. B. Dell, W. O. Tison, D. A. Robertson. The State put two witnesses on the stand to prove its case, while only the defendant himself appeared in his behalf. The case of the prosecution was no doubt weak, and by the over positiveness of one of its witnesses, who said he had known Collier for ten years and that he would recognize him ten feet away on the darkest night—the distance he claimed to be from him

Woman Admits That She Planned the Abduction. Had $9,790 of Whitla's Money.

CLEVELAND, O., March 24.—In the arrest here last night of a man and woman having $9,790 in their possession, the police believe they have captured the kidnappers of Willie Whitla. In fact, the woman in the case, who is somewhat befuddled, admitted that she had been responsible for the kidnapping. When placed in custody at the central police station she said to Capt. Shattuck:

"I am the one who planned the whole thing. There will be trouble for me and hell in Sharon tomorrow."

Beneath the woman's skirt was found $9,790. All of it but $40 was bound in packages with the original slips placed on the money when Whitla took it from the banks still around it. Capt. Norman Shattuck and Detective Frank Wood made the arrest in the east end of the city. When near the police station the man broke away from Detective Wood and ran towards an alley. The official fired two shots from his revolver into the air and the man stopped. The woman made no attempt to escape.

Woman Well Educated.

The woman appears to be well educated and is refined in manners. She says she spent fifteen years of her life in a convent in Pennsylvania, but denies that she ever has been in trouble before. Both the man and the woman deny the name of each other. They admit they are not man and wife. According to the police they were intoxicated when placed in custody. Due to their condition they were not questioned closely by the police and were locked in separate cells. Both will be arraigned in police court today on the charge of abduction, according to Detective Wood.

Capt. Shattuck is said to have secured his description of the kidnappers from Willie Whitla and this description led to the arrest.

Willie told Capt. Shattuck on Monday that the woman who kept him a prisoner had smallpox scars on her face. The woman in custody has red spots on her cheeks and appears to have had smallpox. She is a tall blonde, probably 25 years old. The man is dark and smooth-faced.

On Track of the Pair.

Yesterday detectives heard that a man and woman answering the description of the kidnappers had been seen on the outskirts of the city. They came down town and bought numerous articles of clothing tendering $5 and $10 bills in payment. It was learned. Shortly after midnight the police learned that the two had gone to the east end of the city. The police walked up behind the pair and Capt. Shattuck took the woman by the arm. Detective Wood securing the man. The couple staggered, say the police, as if they were intoxicated. They made no protest against accompanying the officers. The woman chatted with the policeman at her side at first and asked to be released.

It was then she admitted having planned the kidnapping. In the meantime the man attempted to escape, and the revolver shots of Capt. Shattuck brought him to a standstill. Whitla says he has the numbers on the currency bills handed the kidnappers and the police are comparing the notes found in the possession of the prisoners with the memoranda of Whitla.

News in Sharon.

SHARON, Pa., March 24.—Sharon people who heard news of the arrests in Cleveland, suspect a woman well-known here. The woman suspected has not been living with her husband for some time, but has been making her home here. She is said to have had intimate knowledge of the Whitla family and to have known that Mr. Whitla would unquestionably give any amount for the recovery of his son. If she is the woman on whom suspicion has centered here, her quoted assertion "that there will be hell in Sharon tomorrow," was well founded, for her arrest would cause a great sensation.

Joy In Sharon.

SHARON, Pa., March 24.—The whole borough of Sharon turned out last night and participated in the demonstration over the homecoming of Willie Whitla who with his father arrived here soon after noon yesterday. A big parade was led by the Buhl Independent Rifles, a National Guard company and the Buhl Rifles' Band, both named for Willie's uncle, and thousands of persons marched behind them through the principal streets of the town to the Whitla home where fully 5,000 persons assembled on the lawn in front of the house, cheering and giving every evidence of the public participation in the family joy over the recovery of the little wanderer.

Willie does not yet seem to comprehend what he and his parents have been through. He was out this afternoon playing with his little friends. He is the object of the childish envy of every boy in Sharon.

Governor Offers Reward.

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 24.—Gov. Stuart last night issued a proclamation offering a reward of $15,000 for the arrest and conviction of the kidnappers of Willie Whitla.

which he sent to J. J. Williams in payment of liquor.

R. H. Owens was arraigned and plead not guilty to the murder of Joe Musselwhite at Jonesville on the 28th of last January. He and his wife were also arraigned jointly for the murder of R. L. Smith, alias Sapp, on the same day, and plead not guilty. Solicitor Rivers asked for a severance in this case. Mrs. Owens is the mother of a 12-months-old baby girl, which she held in her arms as she entered her plea in a clear tone of voice.

W. S. Nobles, alias Buster Kittler, was arraigned for assault with intent to murder J. P. Henry. Buster, who by no means appeared as neat and tidy as our little friend Buster of picture fame, declared he was not guilty

B. F. Hampton Does First Work on Gov't. Building

The site for the Government building now presents a busy scene, and while there are only a very few laborers employed on the work of excavation the location is thronged all of the day by parties who call to see the progress made.

Work was started on Wednesday morning, when, at 7 o'clock, B. F. Hampton made the first excavation, taking a large jar of the earth that he had dug as a souvenir.

Davis & Oliver have the contract for the excavation of the large hole that will form the basement of the building, this being 100x60 feet. The south end of the building runs north and south instead of east and west, as many had supposed, but the porticos will extend on either side, making the building even larger than the above dimensions.

W. W. King, president of the company who has the contract, left in the afternoon for Ocala, Jacksonville and other points to look after the material for use in the building, but will return here within the next few days.

He will purchase all of his rock and sand here of the local dealers and will also submit samples from brick made here, but as this is a cement product it is not known whether the same can be used.

SPURIOUS "COIN" IS IN CIRCULATION

DIMES AND QUARTERS IN PRO-
FUSION IN BUSINESS CIRCLES.

Requires Close Inspection to Distinguish Them from the Genuine Article—Lookout for Them.

For the past several days a great many lead dimes and quarters have been making their appearance in Gainesville and several of the merchants have been "stuck" on the spurious coin.

The imitations are very good and can scarcely be detected, except in the ring, and it would be advisable at this time for all to notice money well, especially in these denominations.

Specimens showed the reporter were rather old and dark-looking and bore the date of 1881. The fact that they are so old makes it easier for their passage.

It is supposed that this is part of the money recently unearthed from the Newberry section that is now finding its way here, but it would be better that all take notice of the coins of the above denominations and try and get them out of circulation.

A Religious Author's Statement.

Rev. Joseph H. Fesperman, Salisbury, N. C., who is the author of several books, writes: "For several years I was afflicted with kidney trouble and last winter I was suddenly stricken with a severe pain in my kidneys and was confined to bed eight days unable to get up without assistance. My urine contained a thick white sediment and I passed same frequently day and night. I commenced taking Foley's Kidney Remedy, and the pain gradually abated and finally ceased and my urine became normal. I cheerfully recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy. J. W. McCollum & Co.

Calf on Pilot.

The south-bound passenger train of the Seaboard had a real live calf as passenger on its pilot Sunday evening. When the train arrived many were surprised to see the young animal, apparently uninjured, laying up against the head of the boiler, and as the train slowed up it raised its head and took in the surroundings. After the animal was removed it was found that the front leg was broken, but otherwise was uninjured, and Agent Bullard gave it a party to raise. It was picked up at the 94-mile post, near Hatchet creek.

NASAL CATARRH

J. W. McCollum & Co. Sell the Great Remedy That Cured Mrs. Karberg.

Here is a very simple yet wholly sincere statement of a Michigan woman, who was cured by using Hyomel—the no cure no pay remedy for catarrh, asthma, hay fever, croup, cough and colds:

"A bad case of catarrh was cured for me by the use of Hyomel. The trouble affected my head, nose and eyes, and was very annoying and disagreeable, and the cure, from the use of Hyomel, was very gratifying. Hyomel has from me a strong recommendation and endorsement."—Mrs. E. Karberg, 213 Kingsley street, Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 16, 1908.

Thousands of just such letters are in existence, and thousands more would be but for the desire to avoid publicity. If you have catarrh, beat yourself, and drive it out of your system. Kill the germs. You can do that easily if you use Hyomel (pronounced High-o-me).

It is a dry, antiseptic and very pleasant air, that when inhaled quickly relieves all forms of catarrhal inflammation, stops snuffles, hawking and blowing. The price for a complete outfit, including inhaler, is only $1.00 at J. W. McCollum & Co's., corner E. Main and Union streets.

MI-ONA Cures Dyspepsia.

Your money back if it don't. Gives immediate relief from heartburn, sour stomach, stomach distress and sick headache. 50 cents a large box at J. W. McCollum & Co.

Truth and Quality

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing. Accordingly, it is not claimed that Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is the only remedy of known value, but one of many reasons why it is the best of personal and family laxatives is the fact that it cleanses, sweetens and relieves the internal organs on which it acts without any debilitating after effects and without having to increase the quantity from time to time.

It acts pleasantly and naturally and truly as a laxative, and its component parts are known to and approved by physicians, as it is free from all objectionable substances. To get its beneficial effects always purchase the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists.

MICANOPY ITEMS.

MICANOPY, March 22.—W. R. Abstein is building a nice cottage on the lot he recently purchased.

The home-place of the late Rev. J. C. Ley has been repaired and repainted, which adds greatly to the comfort and appearance of the place. W. S. Williams is occupying the residence.

Mrs. Susie Emerson is visiting her son, Lucius, in St. Augustine for a few days.

W. G. English of Flewellen was in town yesterday. He is one of our best truck farmers.

Dan Grace of Evinston was in town yesterday.

Arnold & Coleman, the liverymen, have dissolved copartnership. Arnold retires, while Coleman will continue business at the same stand.

Miss Lorna McCredie entertained her friends Friday evening. As usual they report having had a nice time.

Miss Littlepage, the first assistant of the high school here, has been forced to resign on account of nervous prostration and will go to Virginia. Her friends hope that she will soon regain her wonted health. She will be succeeded by Miss Fogg.

J. L. Ford, wife and daughter left for their home in Lynchburg, Va., yesterday after having spent the winter here. Mrs. Ford is the daughter of our fellow-townsmen, Judge George Dillard.

W. D. Mathews of Flemington was transacting business here Saturday.

Messrs B. F. Mathews, J. W. Chamberlin, W. A. Jones, P. D. Sherod and R. Wilbur of Tacoma were in town yesterday.

Cabbage is readily selling for from $1.30 to $1.50 per crate f. o. b. The farmers that have cabbage will soon be independent. With cabbage, lettuce, beans and cukes to market we may reasonably expect the farmers to get some money ahead. The past two years have not been successful ones financially, generally speaking. We hope this one will be a good one all the way through.

We are sorry to note the death of Mr. C. W. Chase. We hope someone will carry through his paper mill project. While Mr. Chase made money for himself, he was not selfish. He was desirous of helping his fellowman, and especially Gainesville and Alachua county. He will be missed.

Mrs. J. A. Edwards is visiting her son, D. G. Edwards, in Gainesville.

Ben Thrower and wife passed through town yesterday en route to Gainesville in his automobile. Ask Mr. Thrower whether he is in favor of good roads or not—especially whether he favors a few stumps along the public highway?

We hope someone will introduce a bill in the next Legislature that will prevent the sale of stock in fake companies. Make it a heavy fine to offer for sale stocks of any kind that do not have the approval of some State official—say the Comptroller.

If you haven't the time to exercise regularly Doan's Regulents will prevent constipation. They induce a mild, easy, healthful action of the bowels without griping. Ask your druggist for them. 25c.

BEAUTIFUL HOME WEDDING.

Mr. Ethan A. Hickson and Mrs. Sue D. Feaster Happily United.

From Sunday's Daily Sun:

At the home of the bride at Micronopy on Thursday, March 18, at high noon, Mr. Ethan A. Hickson of Lake City and Mrs. Sue D. Feaster, daughter of Mr. George Dillard, were happily united in the holy bonds of wedlock, Rev. Mr. Thrasher, pastor of the Baptist church, officiating.

The hall and stairs were beautifully decorated with cut flowers and evergreens, while the parlor, which was the scene of the ceremony, was artistically decorated with palms, ferns, trailing vines and potted plants.

Promptly at 12 o'clock, to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Mrs. James Simon-ton, the bridal party descended the stairs, crossing into the parlor, where they passed down an aisle made of white ribbon to an improvised altar, which was a perfect bower of palms, ferns and calah lilies.

First came the little ribbon bearers, Miss Sue Feaster Moore of Ocala, Fla., with Master Bernice Feaster of Micronopy, followed by the bride-maids, Miss Lucile Moore of Ocala, Fla., and Miss Lucy Ford of Lynchburg, Va., nieces of the bride.

Then came the groom with his best man, Mr. Allen Bridges of Ocala, and the matron of honor, Mrs. Allen Wheeler Bridges, niece of the bride. She was followed by the bride, who joined the groom at the altar, where a most impressive ceremony was performed.

The bride wore a handsome traveling gown of wisteria cloth and carried an exquisite bunch of bride's roses. The matron of honor wore an exquisite lace robe over satin, trimmed in baby Irish lace, chiffon and pearls, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and asparagus ferns.

Miss Moore was becomingly dressed in white messaline, empire style, and carried a bouquet of lilies and ferns, while Miss Ford was beautifully gowned in apple green messaline, trimmed in passementry of silver sequin, and carried a shower bouquet of orange blossoms.

The groom and his best man wore the conventional black, with white vests and tan gloves.

Mr. E. A. Hickson is a prominent citizen of Lake City, while the bride, a resident of Micronopy for many years, is a woman of rare intellect and has won for herself an enviable place and a vast number of friends all over the State.

Immediately after the ceremony a delightful luncheon was served to the guests and bridal party. This was served from the dining-room, where the color scheme was in pink and green. Six young ladies, Miss Irene McCreary of Gainesville, Miss Rhoda Liddon of Ocala, Misses Belle Chitty, Lola Maude Smith, Elizabeth Mathews and Mary Thrasher of Micronopy passed the salad course and coffee. Mrs. F. J. Hagood of Jacksonville presided over the bride's cake. Miss Irene McCreary cut the ring, while Miss Lucile Moore got the dime.

The guests were then ushered into the punch room, where the most delightful punch was served by Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Crawford. The color scheme in this room was yellow and green.

After the luncheon Mr. and Mrs. Hickson left for an extended trip down the East Coast. They will be at home in Lake City on their return.

The out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Hagood of Jacksonville, Mrs. Mollie Starr of Seattle, Washington, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Ford and daughter, Miss Lucy, of Lynchburg, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Allen W. Bridges, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Moore and children, Mrs. Tom Bridges, Miss Rhoda Liddon, Miss Maggie Peace, all of Ocala; Mr. J. O. Dillard of Hernando, Fla., and Miss Irene McCreary of Gainesville.

LOCAL CONTRACTORS TO SHARE IN BUILDING

PRESIDENT OF COMPANY WILL SUBLET TO LOCAL DEALERS.

Actual Work Will Commence on the Building by Wednesday Morning
With a Small Force of Men.

From Tuesday's Daily Sun:

W. W. King, president of the King Lumber Company, has arrived from his home at Charlottesville, Va., and is now making the necessary preliminaries preparatory to starting work on the new Government building.

He was occupied all of Monday in looking at the different materials to be found here, and where possible will sub-let contracts for certain parts of this work. He wants to purchase all of his brick, sand, lime and rock here from the local dealers, and it is highly probable that satisfactory prices will be made.

In speaking of the building he stated that the actual work of excavation would commence by Wednesday or Thursday, but this will be mainly for the purpose of better understanding just what he will have to do in making room for the basement.

So far the only orders that have been placed are for the cement and steel work, and this part of the contract is being worked upon.

To commence with, only about fifteen hands will be employed, but within the next thirty days a force of from forty to fifty men will be at work on the building, for about this time the sand, stone, steel and other material will commence arriving and this section of the city will present a busy scene.

Mr. John Young, the superintendent of construction for the Ocala building, will also have charge of this building. He will retain his office at Ocala but will visit Gainesville every week to look after the work and material being used.

Mr. King is very favorably impressed with Gainesville. He has visited many sections of the city to look at the different materials to be found here for building. He speaks in the highest praise of the shade trees and the wide streets, and while we have received a very large appropriation for a town of our size, he now feels that our Representative in Congress knew what he was about when he asked for it, and considers that such a fast-growing city is deserving of the high-class building we are to have. There are few, if any, of the cities with a like population that have received what we have, and we should feel happy over the result of the work accomplished by our Representatives in Congress.

Mr. Young will at once visit the city and see that the work and material are all up to the requirements of the Government and it is hoped to have the building completed within the required time, which will be about fourteen months.

From here Mr. King will go to Selma, Ala., where his company have another like contract now well under way, but before his departure he will make all necessary preparations for the building and will place hustling men in charge of the work to complete it as fast as possible.

REMAINS OF MR. CHASE.

Services to Be Held from Home at 2 O'clock This Afternoon.

From Tuesday's Daily Sun:

The special train over the A. C. L. from Jacksonville bearing the remains of the late Chas. W. Chase arrived last night at 8 o'clock and the remains were met at the depot by a large crowd of sympathizers, including many ladies.

In the party on the special were Mrs. Chase, B. F. Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Chase of Chicago, who were met in Jacksonville by Mrs. W. S. Prindle and C. D. Dennis. The party left New York City on Sunday night and arrived in Jacksonville yesterday afternoon, the special being made up and ready for them at the Union depot, and they left that city at 5 o'clock yesterday evening.

The funeral services will be held at the home today at 2 o'clock, and the remains laid to rest in the vault the deceased had constructed long before his death, just west of Evergreen Cemetery.

The funeral will be conducted by Revs. F. R. Bridges and F. H. Craighill, the services being public to all that desire to attend.

Dr. T. F. Thomas and R. McClellan have charge of the remains and last night placed them in the home of the deceased.

The following gentlemen have been requested to act as pallbearers: W. R. Thomas, B. F. Williamson, E. E. Cannon, W. B. Taylor, Col. I. E. Webster, C. D. Dennis and B. F. Hampton, with the following as honorary pallbearers: Col. H. F. Dutton, Byron Barnett of Jacksonville, Capt. John Inglis of Dunnellon, Capt. W. B. Denham of Tampa, Col. J. G. Nichols and N. G. Wade.

Particulars regarding the death of Mr. Chase were that he expired from heart failure, as he lived only a few minutes after a physician was called. He and his wife had just arrived at the Manhattan Hotel in New York City in the morning, and about the noon hour Mrs. Chase went out on a little visit but was to return in a short while, as they had an engagement with an oculist. She returned several minutes before the appointed hour and found Mr. Chase sitting in his chair in a rather dazed condition, as if her appearing had suddenly aroused him. She at once called to some ladies and among the number one summoned a physician, but he never recognized anyone or anything, and expired within a short while after her arrival, having had a severe convulsion, and she is of the opinion that he had been previously stricken to some extent before her return.

Mrs. Chase at once notified his brother in Chicago and he and his wife reached New York a short while following his death, but it was not until Saturday night that Mr. Williamson reached there.

The Dutton Bank, the Gainesville Furniture Company and a number of other business houses have signified their intention of closing during the ceremony, and it would be a just tribute for every business house of the city to close its doors today during the services.

LARGELY ATTENDED FUNERAL.

From Wednesday's Daily Sun:

All of the business houses of the city closed Tuesday during the hours for the funeral ceremony of the late C. W. Chase.

The services were held at the home on East Main street, and long before the hour arrived the home was filled and the street in front was well occupied with people and vehicles who had come to pay their last respects to the man who had done so much for Gainesville.

Revs. Bridges and Craighill conducted the service, which was very impressive, and in the remarks of the clergy they touched upon the successful career of the gentleman while engaged in business. The music was furnished by the Methodist church choir, who sang "Abide With Me" at the opening of the service, and closed with "Lead, Kindly Light."

From the home the remains were taken to the private cemetery of Mr. Chase, located just west of Evergreen Cemetery, where they were laid to rest in a large vault, constructed by the deceased about four years ago.

The floral offerings were the most elaborate and profuse ever seen in the city of Gainesville, a large ambulance being required to carry the offerings to the tomb. Friends of the deceased cabled from Germany to purchase for them a handsome wreath which arrived by express, and the local offerings were all handsome and expensive.

Jacksonville and Savannah were both represented at the funeral, besides quite a number of prominent phosphate and turpentine men from all over the State who had been associated with the deceased in a business way.

Mr. Chase came to this city about 25 years ago, at that time being a promoter of a cotton gin roller, but he was not here long before he realized the great possibilities of the phosphate field and engaged with H. F. Dutton & Co. in the phosphate business, which was practically controlled by him at the time of his death. The company some few years since purchased the interests of Ford & Hiller, and the Dutton Company was organized with C. W. Chase president, Col. H. F. Dutton, secretary-treasurer, and C. D. Dennis, general superintendent.

This phosphate business was only one of the many big undertakings of the man, for at one time he was largely interested in railroading, and it is stated that he made over a million dollars on his transaction for the J. & S. W., which was later sold to the Coast Line.

Mr. Chase's early life was spent in the schools of Massachusetts, and he was engaged early in life in a large shoe factory located near Lynn, Mass., but he disposed of his interests to invest his money in Florida.

He was possibly the most extensive real estate owner in this State, having at the time of his death about 40,000 acres of phosphate land and a great variety of fine city property. His interests include Spring Park Farm, turpentine interests, sawmilling and various private concerns.

Among other large schemes that he was promoting was the large dry dock and terminals for Jacksonville, which would have made this city the shipping point for a larger part of the phosphate rock now handled at Savannah. He had also largely invested his money in the proposed paper plant, and this was a certainty for Gainesville had not his untimely death put a stop to the operations temporarily.

His immense phosphate business will continue, and many of his closest friends are of the opinion that the paper mill will yet be established here.

Mrs. C. W. Chase and his brother, Frank H., will have charge of his vast estate.

of the crime charged against him.

Starling Means, colored, was placed on trial for the murder of Frank Galloway in November, 1907, the weapon alleged to have been used being a wooden club four feet long and two inches thick, the crime being committed at what is known as Albion Mine No. 2.

W. L. Hill, S. B. Cheves, L. J. Burkham, A. W. Taylor, J. H. Patterson, J. W. Tench, foreman; W. D. Fagan, A. J. DaCosta, C. C. Barre, D. A. Robertson, A. Wenske, Joseph Malphurs were sworn as jurors in the case.

Mack Combs, Tub Fraser and Lige Bush, all negroes, told about the same story as to the commission of the murder when placed on the stand by the State, which was represented by Solicitor Rivers, while Col. Chris. Matheson defended the alleged murderer. In November, 1907, they were all in a house, when Means struck Galloway with a baseball bat, from which the latter died. They were "all 'joying themselves," there being quite a crowd in the house. An open pocket knife was found in the dead man's pocket. It was brought out that the ball bat used was one being made by the defendant at the time. They all said defendant had told them he had struck Galloway, none of them having actually seen the blow struck. The State here rested.

The defendant, Starling Means, was sworn in his own behalf. He was not well acquainted with deceased; there were about sixteen people in the room at the time of the killing, which was dark at the time. He did not tell Lige Bush he struck Galloway; Lige was drunk. He left the mines because someone said he had killed Galloway.

The State recalled Lige Bush. Lige appeared to have been recovering from a sleepy drunk, and that is probably the reason he was so tardy in appearing in court that the State had to issue an attachment for him.

The argument for defense and State was short, and after the court delivered its charge the jury retired to consider the case. They were out about 45 minutes when they returned with a verdict of manslaughter.

Court adjourned until 9 o'clock Wednesday morning.

KELLEY AND DAVIDSON ARRAIGNED JOINTLY

Both Indicted For Murder of W. C. Sellars at High Springs in August, 1906.

Circuit court convened at 9 o'clock, Judge Wills presiding.

The case of the State of Florida vs. W. D. Debose, colored, charged with forgery, was called for trial. The State was represented by Solicitor Rivers and the defense by Col. E. C. F. Sanchez and Robt. E. Davis.

The following jury was sworn in the case: S. B. Cheves, J. H. Patterson, L. J. Burkham, Jos. Malphurs, D. A. Robertson and A. J. DaCosta. This was a case wherein the defendant was charged with forging the name of W. R. Thomas to a check for $9, and the name of W. G. Shehee to another for $6, payable to J. J. Williams.

The witnesses were put under the rule.

J. J. Williams was sworn for the State. Witness was shown certain papers, including check signed W. R. Thomas, which he identified, whereupon the State offered same in evidence. Objected to by defense; objection overruled. Witness testified that he shipped the goods on the order accompanied by the check signed W. R. Thomas, the goods being returned to him by the express company. The order was signed Harry W. Smith, to whom the goods were shipped, Debose calling at the express office for them with an order purporting to be signed by Smith.

W. R. Thomas was sworn and testified that he did not know any such man as H. W. Smith.

F. H. McDonald, cashier of the express company, testified that he was acquainted with the defendant. Witness identified order signed Smith upon which he delivered the package of whiskey to Debose at the time of the latter's arrest. McDonald had delivered whiskey to a negro who Debose had identified as Henry Young on another occasion.

Sheriff Ramsey testified that at the time he arrested Debose defendant stated that he got the package on an order from C. C. Wilson. Sheriff identified some writing done by Wilson whom Debose claimed to have gotten the order from. The papers were offered in evidence by the State, to which the defense objected; objection overruled. The sheriff stated that he had made a thorough search for Henry Young but had been unable to find him.

F. D. Ellis, Jr., identified some writing done in his presence by Debose. The papers were filed in evidence.

L. D. Farnum, cashier of the Dutton Bank, upon which the different checks were drawn, said that he had seven or eight years' experience in the bank examining signatures. He identified the order for the whiskey and the paper written in the presence of Mr. Ellis as having been written by the same party, in fact all the papers, including the signatures on the Thomas and Shehee checks, as written by the same party.

W. G. Shehee was shown check purporting to be signed by him and said that he had not signed the check; check was offered in evidence. Objected to by defense; objection was sustained.

W. D. Debose was next sworn in his own behalf and denied all knowledge of the transaction and stated that he simply got the order from Wilson and went after the whiskey as requested, Wilson telling him that Smith was a preacher and did not care to call in person for the liquor.

This closed the evidence on both sides, and Col. Davis argued the case for the defense. At the conclusion of his argument court adjourned until 2 p. m.

Afternoon Session.

Court convened at 2 o'clock, the room being crowded in anticipation of the case of Kelley, charged with the murder of Sellars, coming to trial.

The grand jury came into court and reported that they had no further business before them, whereupon they were discharged.

Solicitor Rivers began his argument for the prosecution in the case of W. D. Debose, charged with forgery. He spoke for 25 minutes, when Judge Wills delivered his charge in the case and the jury retired to make up their verdict.

Freeman Swanson, a young negro, was arraigned on the charge of conveying tools to one John Jones, a prisoner in the county jail, to aid in the latter's escape, and plead not guilty.

The State announced ready in the case of James Kelley, charged with the murder of W. C. Sellars at High Springs on the night of August 8th, 1906, whereupon Col. Stripling, of counsel for defense, asked for the sheriff's return on the attachment issued for McElween, a witness for the defense.

The sheriff made following return of the special venire of 75 summoned in the Kelley case:

John Osteen, W. F. Gay, M. D. Jackson, W. P. Shettleworth, Jasper Harris, A. U. Hilleary, C. J. Lindsay, J. M. Guinn, Geo. L. Taylor, Jasper

Moore, W. J. Cannon, H. M. Baker, F. M. Celson, J. W. Sherouse, C. N. Merry, C. J. Grace, Frank Parker, Chas. Tyson, J. H. Kennedy, Geo. Dampier, E. L. Cushman, J. L. Grimes, C. C. Fletcher, C. L. Kite, J. F. Bunch, J. R. Emerson, H. J. Bailey, A. L. Sanders, J. H. Hines, J. S. Goode, L. C. Gracy, P. M. Colson, R. C. Davis, Jas. Harrison, R. L. Tison, Curtis Baird, J. M. Love, W. H. Hines, N. R. Carter, O. B. Bryant, W. S. LeGrande, Jos. M. Kite, J. P. Jones, C. M. McKinney, W. H. Guthrie, W. R. Eddins, G. W. Everett, Eli Futch, R. R. Doke, W. S. Moore, S. R. Chitty, W. F. Love, J. D. Caldwell, C. D. May, W. Lancaster, J. B. Brooks, W. J. English, Geo. W. Dyal, Jesse M. Shaw, R. B. Bush, John Chamblin, S. A. Hussey, J. T. Jones, I. O. Hilliard.

Messrs. Baird, Bryant, Jones, Guthrie, Moore, Chitty, May, Lancaster, English, Dyal, Bush, Hussey, Jackson, Hilleary, Taylor, Shettleworth, Merry, Dampier, Grimes, Gracy and Colson were excused by the court, and the sheriff reported that he was unable to find Geo. M. Gramling, W. T. Jones, T. D. Kite, N. C. Pettit, N. P. Cauthen, J. W. Sutton, W. J. Tillman, O. R. Green, J. C. Bryant and C. S. Douglass.

File Concealed in a Banana.

Freeman Swanson, a negro youth still in his teens, was arraigned on the charge of conveying tools to a prisoner with which to escape, and on the advice of his counsel he entered a plea of guilty. He bought a large banana and secreted a file in the same before handing it through the bars of the county jail to a prisoner by the name of Henry Swanson, a half-brother of the prisoner. James Kelley, the white man who is confined in jail for the murder of W. C. Sellars, heard the men at work with the file and reported the matter to the sheriff, who found the lock filed about half in two. Had the prisoners been given another hour to work in all who desired could have escaped from that part of the jail during the night. The special veniremen were discharged until 5 o'clock p. m.

Debose Found Guilty.

After being out just one hour the jury in the Debose case filed into court and, through their foreman, J. H. Patterson, returned a verdict of guilty as charged in the first count of the indictment.

Bolsy Murphy, colored, charged with the murder of his wife, Janie Murphy, plead guilty to murder in the second degree, and was sentenced to imprisonment for life.

D. M. Davidson, who had been indicted by the grand jury at this term as an accessory before the fact of the murder of W. C. Sellars, was brought into court during the day, he having voluntarily surrendered upon learning of the indictment.

On motion of defendant's counsel the case of Duncan Jordan, charged with the murder of Geo. Bryant, was continued until the second Monday in May of the spring term of court.

At five o'clock James Kelley and D. M. Davidson were jointly arraigned on the charge of having murdered W. C. Sellars, a special officer of the A. C. L. Ry., at High Springs on the night of August 8th, 1906, to which charge both defendants responded in a clear voice, "Not guilty."

A telegram was received from McElween's physician, the absent witness for Kelley, stating that he could come Thursday, and Judge Wills set the case for disposition at 9 a. m. Thursday, to which hour court adjourned.

Of Interest to Teachers.

The Special Review Term for teachers at the Stetson Normal School will open on Wednesday, March 31st. Special reduced rates can be secured over all the Florida lines by application to local ticket agents. The Southern Passenger Association and the Florida East Coast Railroad Company have issued such instructions to their agents.

The Stetson Normal School will offer review courses in all of the subjects in which teachers are examined for any grade of teachers' certificate in the State of Florida. In order to encourage the public school teachers in their efforts to build up an efficient common school system, Stetson Normal School offers free tuition, free room rent and a reduced rate of boarding to all Florida teachers and prospective teachers who wish to take the review course offered during the spring term, beginning March 31st and closing June 1.

Railroad tickets can be bought on March 29th, 30th and 31st and will be good for return as late as June 2. For further particulars address Director A. L. L. Shrie, DeLand, Fla.

A FEARLESS, HONEST PREACHER GIVES HIS OPINION OF PE-RU-NA

An Up-to-Date Clergyman Describes an Up-to-Date Household Remedy that Has Had the Test of Time and is Known the World Over.

Some preachers are afraid to give an outspoken opinion on any remedy, however highly they may esteem it. Others are not afraid.

Rev. J. T. Peeler

Catarrh of Stomach.

REV. J. T. PEELER, Hendersonville, S. C., writes:

"I desire to make known for the benefit of suffering humanity my experience with Peruna."

"I was afflicted with catarrh of the stomach, and though I tried many remedies and applied to several doctors, it was all in vain."

"Had it not been for Peruna I believe I would have been in my grave to-day."

"I have every reason to believe that Peruna is the greatest remedy for catarrh known to the world. Therefore I have been, and shall continue to recommend it to those who are unwell."

REV. J. G. DUKES, Pastor of the Unitarian Church at Pinetown, N. C., writes:

"My wife has been in a very bad state of health for several years, and nothing seemed to do her any good until she began to use Peruna one month ago. Since then the color has returned to her face, and she is gaining in flesh every day, and I believe she is a well woman to-day."

"My little boy, ten years old, was pale and had but little life. He began to use Peruna the day his mother began. To-day his face is rosy, and he is out in the yard running and jumping with the rest of the children."

Throat Trouble.

Rev. H. W. Tate, 920 Lincoln Ave., Walnut Hills, Cincinnati, Ohio, writes that for several years he has been troubled with a peculiar spasmodic affection of the throat, which interfered with his vocation as a preacher. He took Peruna and his trouble disappeared.

Ex-President Roosevelt Has Sailed for Africa

NEW YORK, March 23.—Ex-President Roosevelt, the date of whose departure for South Africa was at first given out as March 13th, by a North German Lloyd steamer, sailed today by the Hamburg-American Liner Hamburg, and will reach Naples on the 5th of April. From that port he will continue his trip on the steamship Admiral for Mombasa or to Kilgardiing. He is accompanied by the Smithsonian representatives and Kermit, but not by Mrs. Roosevelt, who, with the children, will sail later.

Thousands Cheer at Pier.

The ex-President, on his arrival at the Hamburg-American pier in Hoboken, was greeted with bands playing flags flying and cheers of several thousand people, who had assembled to wish the distinguished traveler Godspeed. He was beaming with good nature and enthusiasm about the trip. Everything was fine and "bully" to Roosevelt, and he acknowledged the cheering by repeatedly raising his hat.

A number of foreign diplomats, including the French ambassador and men prominent in the Roosevelt administration, were received on board the Hamburg. While the distinguished passenger had left explicit instructions with the general manager and captain, of Hamburg, on his visit of inspection to the steamer yesterday that he would prefer to have no unusual attention shown him aboard the ship at the time of sailing, the captain could not forego the opportunity to greet the ex-President in true military style.

Card of Thanks.

Mrs. Chas. W. Chase and family take this method of acknowledging their deep appreciation of the many acts of kindness shown them by the good people of Gainesville on the death of Mr. C. W. Chase and his funeral. Such manifestations of love and esteem for our dear one will never be forgotten.

A PEARL OF GREAT PRICE.

"The wife of Charles W. Morse, the convicted banker, is one of those women who do the sex credit," says The Tampa Times. "She stands by her husband, spending her last dollar to help him out of his troubles, seeing him every day in jail, taking his instructions and advice, managing his complicated business affairs and clinging to him with affection, tenderness and fidelity that reflects strongly in contrast with the behavior of many rich women towards the husbands that have been unfortunate. No one can calculate how much it helps Morse to bear his imprisonment to feel that when his term expires his wife will be waiting for him so that they can go away together and take their remnant of years in such ease and comfort as is possible.

"This display of genuine womanliness outweighs the follies of a thousand fickle and lightheaded women, and it is a sustaining thought that many thousands of less conspicuous women continuously do the same thing, that it is what may be expected more often than the reverse. This incident promotes reflection on the good things we see and hear of in life and is calculated to convince even the thoughtless that this isn't such a bad old world after all."

Whatever view may be held as to woman suffrage, it is clear that the present movement having for its object the securing of the suffrage has passed the age when it can be treated with ridicule or as an inconsequential matter. With Sweden, Australia and New Zealand granting the suffrage within the last year, with woman suffrage in four of our own States, and with the activity and influence displayed in Great Britain, certain it is that the demands now being made upon many of our State Legislatures to grant votes to women have an insistence and force never before seen.

The murder of the American detective in Italy by the Black Hand will probably cause our Government to take more drastic action in dealing with that organization in this country. That it exists here and that it is responsible for many outrages and murders admits of no doubt. Such societies are most repugnant to our American ideas of justice and of dealing with wrong, and the sooner this is made clear to people of assassination proclivities the better, both for them and the country.

The decision of the Standard Oil case which has been before the people for the past two years seems to make it clear that all the efforts of the Government to effectively deal with violation of law by combinations of capital will have to be done over again. As the present laws, from which so much was expected, appear to be faulty in the extreme, probably the first thing needed is the enactment of laws that will be both constitutional and effective.

Some of those editors who complain of the Government printing envelopes are ardent advocates of the Government ownership of railroads,

"TAKE CARE OF THE PENCE."

"Take care of the pence; the pounds will take of themselves," is an elaborate definition of the word "thrift." Careful husbandry of all the things entering into success, makes success. Improvidence in their use, or neglect of their use at all, equally works failure in any department of labor. If a working man spends all his dimes for what does not enrich him, he will have no dollars to keep him from want. So if the farmer leaves the small details of successful farm life to take care of themselves, he will soon want new implements, new stock, new wagons, new harness, new household articles and new clothes; but he will have no money with which to buy these necessities.

"Thrift" cannot be read in the appearance of as many farm yards and houses as it should be, but there are a sufficient number of examples here and there to furnish the alphabet for the unthrifty to learn. If the old cannot learn habits of care for the small things about a farm, young farmers may and ought to learn and diligently practice them. Let nothing useful go to waste from want and neglect. Have an eye that scans everything, from the tap of a bolt to the construction of a house, and a hand for everything, from the feeding of the children down to the feeding of the pigs. The young man is a pretender, not a farmer, who turns over his stocks, farm outfits, outhouses and fences to the care of anybody. His laziness, indifference or ignorance, whichever it be, will very soon open his eyes, and the eyes of all around him, to the fact that there is no "thrift" about his premises. Everything around him will present the appearance of decay. Let our strong young farmers remember this.

In this connection it may be well to try and inculcate a lesson on the necessity of collecting small things in and around a farm for manures. The waste of the best plant food everywhere was a folly of the old-time farmers. This, if gathered, protected and increased from the woods, would make an astonishing difference in every annual crop. This system of husbanding and increasing home-made fertilizers is forcing itself on some farmers, and it ought to become contagious. Our farming people have occasionally taken a mania. Here is one which will benefit them. We hope they will all catch it. If they can be induced to contract a mania for passing everything around them under their daily personal inspection and protection, and for saving up everything they can gather for enriching their lands, it will be the very best thing for them.

THE LIQUOR DISEASE.

The Keeley Institute at Jacksonville is doing a good work in curing persons addicted to the drink habit, as is attested by people in all walks of life, from young men to gray haired veterans, and deserves the encouragement of every citizen of the State who desires to see his or her friend or relative cured of the liquor habit—which is in many instances a disease. If you have a man in your employ who is really a valuable employee when free from the curse of liquor, but who is unable to resist his appetite for strong drink, do not throw the poor fellow "overboard," but give him an opportunity to go to this institute and be cured. If necessary, even go to the extent of assisting him financially to do so, and if he has pure red blood in his veins you will never regret it.

It is all well enough to say, "O, he could quit drinking if he wanted to," but we know of instances to the contrary, where men had exercised all power in them to cease the use of liquor, but found it impossible to do so, and who, as a last resort, "took the cure," and have since been the very best citizens. Two of the best men we ever had in our employ have been living examples to us of this, and many of our best friends are today living examples of it.

The W. C. T. U. of Chicago has sent many ineffectual to Dwight, Ill., where the mother Keeley Institute is located, and we are informed that instances are very rare where their trust in the poor creature has been misplaced. In nearly every case the money advanced has been repaid and the patients have made good citizens.

Some of the wealthy men and women who are endowing different institutions could not put their money to better use than by creating a trust for the treatment of treating in-brates of this class. It would do more to promote the cause of temperance than all the laws that could be passed against the sale of liquor from now until doomsday.

A man who has realized the necessity of taking the Keeley treatment, and takes it, is like the one who has had his hand in the fire; he knows it will burn, and if he again partakes of strong drink he knows in advance what the result will be, and for those who again resort to the cup there is not much hope, but such cases are an exception.

The Keeley Institute at Jacksonville is now located in a nice home and is prepared to accommodate any number of patients. The editor recently called to see a friend who was taking the treatment there, and he found the Institute nicely furnished and most homelike. Dr. Jackson and his assistant, Dr. Betton, are pleasant, affable gentlemen, and the patients who had been inmates of the Institute for a week or more were all loud in their praise of the treatment, one of them informing us that he had gained eight pounds in ten days. He had only been there two weeks, and said he felt entirely cured, but proposed to take the entire four weeks' treatment. Only a few weeks prior we had seen him in a comatose state, a mere skeleton, with no appetite, and a physical wreck. Others whom we know by reputation were also there as patients, and all of them said they would not take anything for the good that had already been done there.

This article is not a paid advertisement, but is written with the hope that it will result in some poor fellow taking the treatment and being cured of the dreadful disease of drunkenness.

THE POWER OF HORSE SENSE.

The Jacksonville Times-Union of last Sunday contained the following excellent editorial on the above subject:

"We doubt whether a more ignorant jury was ever found than that which tried Col. Cooper and his son and John D. Sharpe for murder. We doubt if ever a case was decided that presented more difficulties. We expected a mistrial. We believed that partisanship was so high in Tennessee that it would obscure the evidence—that the Carmack men would be for conviction while the Patterson men would be for acquittal.

"The conflict of evidence also furnished grounds for expecting a mistrial. The witnesses for the State made out a case of deliberate murder, while the witnesses for the defense made out a case of self-defense. It was the work of the jury to weigh conflicting evidence and decide what statements were true and what were not; and if the jury decided that the statements of the witnesses for the prosecution were true and the conflicting statements of the witnesses for the defense were untrue, this decision must have been without a reasonable doubt, for if there was a reasonable doubt it was the duty of the jury to acquit.

"Putting aside the testimony of the defendants, there was other testimony that showed that Senator Carmack fired first. We do not mean to say he did, for there was other testimony that he did not fire a ball. But the testimony of two surgeons agreed that he could not have fired after receiving either of the three wounds—that either of them would have been instantly fatal. A pistol with two chambers empty was found near Senator Carmack's body. The jury certainly had no easy task, even putting aside the bitterness of the partisanship that divides the people of the county.

"The jury acquitted Sharpe, the least influential of the defendants. It could not have done otherwise. The evidence against him was not sufficient to prove guilt. At best it was only sufficient to create a strong suspicion of guilt.

"The jury convicted Col. Cooper and Robin Cooper of murder in the second degree. This was evidently a compromise. According to law they should have been acquitted if their guilt was not proved beyond a reasonable doubt, and if it was they should have been convicted of murder in the first degree. The milder verdict, though far from mild, shows that some men on the jury were not satisfied beyond a doubt of their guilt. Such compromises are common with juries—as common with the most intelligent as with the most ignorant.

"Without expressing either approval or disapproval of the verdict—for such expression could not be intelligent from one who did not hear the evidence—we say that these twelve men evidently put aside all prejudice, considered the case intelligently and did what they thought was right. A jury composed of the twelve most intelligent men in the United States, if they had been unprejudiced, would probably have found the same verdict and have arrived at their conclusions by the same process of reasoning.

"And this goes to show the difference between book learning and horse sense." A man may have one and not the other. Book learning may assist a man to live without certain kinds of physical labor, but it does not guarantee that a man has more brain, is a better reasoner, is more accurate in his conclusions than another man who does not know one letter from another. It is not rarely, but often the case, that the well-educated man is the mental inferior of his illiterate neighbor. He who considers illiteracy in the South as even of a lack of brains, would do well to not measure his powers against the power of the illiterates. They can tell a gold brick as far as any class in the country."

NO NEED OF A VETERINARY

"We run a livery, feed and sale stable, have a city transfer and handle hard and soft coal and consequently we need a good many horses," say Beddell Bros., of Mount Carmel, Ill. "We have used Sloan's Liniment and Veterinary Remedies for years and find they give perfect satisfaction. As long as Sloan's remedies are in our barn we do not need a veterinary surgeon. We are never without them and conscientiously recommend them to all horsemen."

Colby Bros. of the Mineral City Livery, Fort Dodge, Ia., write: "We have used Sloan's Colic Cure, Liniment and Fever and Distemper Remedy for the past ten years, and since we have been using them, we have never had a veterinary in our barn, and have not lost a horse from either colic or distemper, and will say that any man with a horse or horses who keeps Sloan's Liniment and Veterinary Remedies in his barn will never have occasion to call a veterinary."

BURNETT LOT SITE MAY BE SELECTED

The City Council held an interesting adjourned session on Wednesday evening, when the following were present: President Shands, Aldermen Broome, Burnett, Graves, Vidal and Clerk Dell.

Alderman Broome moved that the following names be placed on the official ballot to be voted for at the coming municipal election to be held on April 13:

For Aldermen—E. E. Cannon, C. A. Colclough, J. A. Goodwin, T. W. Shands, R. B. Peeler, W. T. Pound, M. B. Saunders.

For Mayor—Horatio Davis and S. J. Burnett.

For Marshal—B. T. Arnow and G. C. Warren.

For Tax Collector—T. B. Ellis.

For Clerk and Treasurer—J. M. Dell.

For Assessor—B. R. Colson and W. M. Bradford.

Member Board Public Works—H. E. Taylor.

Ordinance No. 176, being an ordinance to prohibit the discharge of firearms within the city limits and providing a penalty therefor, was taken up and read by sections and adopted upon its first reading. The rules were waived and it was passed by the council on second and third readings.

The assessment of J. L. Bulah was reduced to $250 and Mrs. A. F. Harrod to $300.

Alderman Graves moved that Lot 14 of the Oak Hall plat be purchased for the sum of $400, which was carried.

Alderman Broome moved that a note be made to the Dutton Bank for $424.14, signed by the President and attested by Clerk, to pay the balance due the Good Roads Machinery Company on the rock crusher.

The committee selected to report on a suitable lot for the location of a new fire station made their report in favor of the lot owned by Mrs. Ida Burnett. The report was received and ordered filed.

Alderman Broome moved that the following resolution be passed by the council in reference to the pay of the firemen during their service at a fire when the hose is used: "Resolved, That the following sums be paid to members of the Fire Department for the City of Gainesville for their services whenever they are called to a fire and it becomes necessary for them to wet the hose: For chief, $1.50; each foreman, per hour, $2.50; each fireman, per hour, $1."

Upon motion the board adjourned to meet on April 2nd, at 7:30 p. m., at which time complaints of any wrong names have been stricken from the city registration list may be heard.

KIDNAPPERS DELIVERED LAD TO HIS FATHER

Little Willie Whitla Had Been Treated Well—His Father Paid the $10,000 Ransom.

CLEVELAND, O., March 23.—Little Willie Whitla, who has caused the police of the entire country endless worry since he was kidnapped from school in Sharon, Pa., last Thursday, was returned to his father at the Hollenden Hotel here last night at 8:30 o'clock.

In compliance with an agreement entered into between the kidnapped boy's father and an agent of the kidnapers here yesterday, the boy was placed on a street car on the outskirts of the city and started to the hotel shortly after 8 o'clock.

Two boys, G. W. Ramsey and Edward Mahoney, recognized the lad on the car and taking him in charge conducted him to his father, who was in waiting. The boy wandered about the hotel lobby unannounced for several minutes, asking bellboys for his father before the latter knew his son was in the big foyer. The moment the anxious parent heard that a strange boy was in the hotel he rushed across the lobby, grasped him in his arms and smothered his face with kisses.

Little Lad Was Disguised.

An attempt had been made to disguise the lad. He wore a pair of smoked glasses and a large tan cap, which was pulled down over his ears, and the father said it would have been difficult to have recognized the boy in such a garb had he passed him on the street.

Willie is in perfect health. He says that he has been well treated, and ever since his capture has been constantly indoors. He believes he was taken from Sharon to Warren and thence to New Castle, Pa. It is his opinion, expressed in a happy school-boy way, that he was in Ashtabula on Saturday night at the time his father was to leave his $10,000 in Flat Iron Park.

Whitla senior refused to state whether he had paid the ransom or not. He said that he received a letter yesterday from the kidnapers at his home in Sharon, saying that if he called at a confectionery store in the east end of Cleveland he would be told how to secure his boy unharmed, and "well fed."

Went Alone to the Tryst.

Shortly after noon he left Sharon for Cleveland. He was unaccompanied. His immediate family and the private detectives he had in his employ he apprised of the proposed secret meeting, but insisted that he make the trip alone. Every one of them was warned that he must be allowed to go unheralded and no attempt at the capture of the kidnapers now be made. Whitla was certain that if he spoiled the plans of his son's captors last night he would never see the lad again. His experience at Ashtabula served as a warning.

About 2 o'clock yesterday morning he went to a candy store in the East End. With him he carried the $10,000, expecting that it would be demanded of him there. He was met by a woman, who detailed to him the terms of the kidnapers. With all the eagerness of a distracted parent, Whitla agreed to them immediately. Detectives in his employ say that he paid the money, but on this point the father declines to commit himself. Half an hour later he returned to the Hollenden Hotel and awaited developments. As he waited in the hotel lobby and corridors Whitla was in a highly nervous condition. A few newspaper men walked over to talk to him.

Father's Hour of Waiting.

"In heaven's name, men, do not say anything to me. I am on the verge of nervous prostration," he said. "I expect the boy will be back soon, but I cannot state positively whether he will return safe and sound. Do not ask me to reveal the alleged settlement. That might ruin all of the plans."

For more than an hour Whitla anxiously awaited in the lobby, smoking cigars and muttering to himself. Detective Perkins sat near him and pleaded with him to have patience. A friend approached and Whitla walked into a secluded corner of the hotel and talked to him in monosyllables. His eyelids twitched nervously.

The Lad's Return.

In the meantime little Willie was being treated kindly and even at this time does not realize what danger he was in. The woman in the candy store had done her duty. She communicated with the captors of the boy and told them that the father had made no attempt to trap them. The boy was brought from his unknown hiding place to a car line in the east end of the city.

The kidnapper, according to Willie, was cheerful enough. The youngster and his captor skipped in school-boy fashion toward the trolley line, jesting in the meantime.

A few rods from the car line, the man stopped the boy. Pulling a pair of smoked glasses from his pocket, he adjusted them to the lad's head with the remark: "You'll look better in these." The sides of the black yarn cap were pulled carefully over the boy's ears. A slip which Willie was to hand to the conductor, was put in the boy's pocket. It read: "Send this boy to the Hollenden Hotel double quick."

Mysterious "Mr. Jones."

Willie says the man told him that if anybody asked him who took him to the car line to tell them that it was "Mr. Jones."

"All right, Mr. Jones," answered Willie.

Presently a car came into view and the mysterious Mr. Jones drew the boy closer to him.

"Well, Willie, you are going down town now, and you will see your papa pretty soon," he said.

This delighted Willie. He swung onto the car quickly, according to the conductor. "Mr. Jones" paid the boy's fare and then got off the car and disappeared after waving a friendly adieu.

Presently Edward Mahoney, aged 17, sat down in the seat with the boy. Mahoney, like most every other person in Cleveland last night, was looking for Willie Whitla. So he started a conversation.

Lad Denies His Name.

"What's your name?" he queried. "Jones," answered Willie, as his kidnapper friend had told him to do. But Mahoney was not to be fooled. He called his friend, Ramsey, over from another part of the car and showed him Willie. He suggested that it might be the missing child. Then Willie showed them his transfer slip, saying that he should get off at the Hollenden Hotel, and they were convinced it was he.

The boys took Willie to the hotel. He skipped through the doors ahead of them and into the lobby.

Willie did not see his father, mother or sister in the lobby. Walking over to the clerk he asked: "Have you seen my papa?"

"Who is he, boy?" he was asked. "Oh! I'm Mr. Whitla's Willie," he replied.

The crowd nearest the boy who heard the words rushed in around him. The father and his boy were then brought together and the rapidly increasing crowds gave frantic cheers for them both. Father and son went to the former's room. Then through the door came these words, spoken by the father to the boy's mother on the long-distance telephone:

"Oh, mother, I have Willie here in my arms. He is safe. Glory to God, mamma; it is the happiest night of my life."

Fully 2,000 people gathered in the hallways and lobbies of the hotel. Those who were unable to get into the hotel stood on the sidewalk and shouted for a glimpse of the boy. Again and again they called his name and implored his father to bring him out and let them look at him. Whitla acquiesced to the request of the crowd, and carrying the boy on his shoulders walked down into the lobby. Mounting a raised platform in the center of the lobby, Willie gave everyone a chance to see both father and son.

Father Makes a Speech.

Cries of "Speech!" "Speech!" caused Willie to say a few words, as follows:

"This is my son. He was lost and is found again. If I live a thousand years I never can do enough to repay the press, the police and the people who all have done noble work in helping to find my boy and in extending their sympathy to me and my family and relatives."

The father then sought to induce the child to say a few words in response to the crowd's demands, but, frightened, Willie began to cry, so the assemblage cheered him again and desisted in its efforts to make him speak.

The Little Boy's Story.

Later the boy related his story to his father and the newspaper men, as follows:

"A man, tall and with a black mustache, came to the schoolhouse Thursday and told my school teacher, Mrs. Anna Lewis, that you wanted me at your office. I went out to a buggy with him. On the way down town he asked me to address a letter to you. I did this and then dropped it into a mail box. He was awfully kind."

"We went from Sharon to Warren. The man, who was the same one who brought me to the car line last night, was nice to me. He tucked the robe about my legs. Gee, he was good."

"When we got to a place the man said was Warren, the man left the buggy in the road. Then we got on what I think was an electric car. I was sleepy when we got on the car."

Short, Merry Whiskers.

"When we got to a town that the man called New Castle, they took me to a woman. She was good to me. The hospital, or whatever the building was, was a clean place. There was a man there who I think was a doctor. He looked like a doctor, because he had whiskers, short, merry whiskers."

"The people in the hospital told me that I must do just what they told me to do. If I did not obey them, they said they would take me to a place called the post house, where folks that have mailboxes have to go."

I walked the chalk just like a good boy, papa, like you've told me to do.

"On Saturday night I was taken away from the hospital and I think we went to a town called Ashtabula. We traveled in a buggy and on foot. Early in the morning we went back to the hospital. I heard one of the men say: 'There will be nothing doing tonight, I guess.'

"They told me I was taking a little vacation. I was not going to be hurt, they told me, so I just acted nice and had a good time playing around the hospital. I knew I would get back home all right and just supposed 'Mr. Jones' was one of my friends, who was treating me nice because you wanted him to treat me that way, papa dear."

Before retiring for the night, Mr. Whitla admitted that he had paid $10,000 to the woman in the candy store. It was in currency and bills. The woman did not count the money. Mr. Whitla believes the woman was an Italian, but refuses to disclose her identity.

Armstrong, the Jacksonville eye and nerve specialist: "Dear Doctor—I will always recommend your treatment to any I see suffering from catarrh, nervousness, stomach troubles or any affection of the eyes, as your treatment for myself, daughter and son has worked wonders and overcome those terrible headaches, etc. I would not take ten thousand dollars for what I have learned while under your care. (Signed) R. B. McRAY."

LETTER TO WILL HOLLY,

Gainesville, Florida.
Dear Sir: You are to paint Mr. —'s house for $1—. We won't tell your private affairs—no matter what figures—it's a fair price.

What paint'll you youse?
We're thinking of one, all paint and as strong as a paint can be; it'll take about 15 gallons, $75 for paint and painting.

Another, half paint; it'll take about 30 gallons of that, $150 for paint and painting.

The least-gallons paint, of course, will wear a long time; the other is good while it lasts. Least gallons, least cost, best job.

It isn't every trade that lets a man do as cheap job and make money and friends like that. Yours truly,

F. W. DEVOE & CO.
P. S.: The Gainesville Hardware Co. sell our paint.

MISTAKE AS TO FERRY.

Mules Were Drowned While Crossing Ferry Miles Above Old Town.

On the 18th inst., a statement was published in The Sun that a valuable pair of mules had been drowned while crossing the Suwannee river on W. N. Fowler's ferry at Old Town. The location of the ferry was an error, either by the reporter or his informant, the accident having occurred at a ferry many miles above Old Town, it is alleged.

The Sun had no desire or intention to do the owner of the ferry at Old Town an injustice, and cheerfully makes the correction due him.
